

PLEAS OF GUILTY MADE BY SEVERAL PRISONERS

Judge Hole Imposes Sentence in a Number of Cases, Including Several From This City.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS ARE SIFTED

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—A number of jail prisoners and other persons against whom the recent grand jury returned indictments were arraigned yesterday. Several pleaded guilty and received sentences. Those who pleaded not guilty will have their trial next week.

Peter Kessler, of Wellsville, pleaded guilty to a charge of having stolen $13 from Alexander Joseph. Kessler and Joseph were fellow boarders at a house in Wellsville and on December 14 Kessler entered Joseph's room and took a wallet containing the money. Joseph did not appear before the grand jury to testify against the accused and the latter said when arraigned he was drunk when he took the wallet and that he had returned it the same day. Kessler had spent more than a month in jail and Judge Hole fined him the costs in the case and sentenced him to one day in jail.

Jacob Freistoffer, of East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to a charge of having sold to a habitual drunkard and was fined $15 and costs. His attorney said in his behalf that the accused had been in the saloon business at East Liverpool for 14 years and that inquiry had elicited the information from prominent citizens that he conducts an orderly place. It was his first appearance in court, and he said if he had sold to a habitual he had done so innocently.

John Owens, of East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to a like offense and was fined $15 and costs. He has been in the business two years and it was his first offense.

Isaac N. Crable, of East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to a charge of having sold to a habitual named Chadwick and was fined $25 and costs. His attorney, J. G. Moore, of Lisbon, said he had been in business in East Liverpool upwards of 20 years and had been before Judge Hole but once previously.

Earl Hill, Crable's bartender, pleaded guilty to having sold to a habitual, John Burris, who, he said, he had never seen intoxicated. It was his first offense and he was fined $15 and costs. Homer Richards, of East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery committed on Albert Harr on December 12. In his statement to the court Prosecutor McGarry said Richards had come to East Liverpool from Salem and become a boarder at the house where Harr was stopping. Harr is said to have made a remark concerning Richards' attention to a domestic. It was reported to Richards and he went to Harr's room, where he struck him. Richards has been in jail ever since December 16 and he was fined the costs in the case and sentenced to one day in jail.

Newton Croxall, Jr., of East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery committed on Caroline Smith early in November and was fined $5 and costs. On the day of the assault Croxall was passing along Shady-side avenue, a suburban road in East Liverpool, near the home of the woman whom he was alleged to have assaulted. A stone thrown from a quarry nearby struck the side of Mrs. Smith's house, and when the woman came running out she saw Croxall on the other side of the road and at once accused him of the deed. She poured forth abuse and he finally slapped her when she called him a vile name. He then struck her across the arm with a broom handle which she attempted to use on him. Croxall was unable to pay his fine and is still in jail.

David Fitzgerald, of Wellsville, pleaded not guilty to a charge of burglary, and Attorney William O'Grady, of that city, was assigned to defend him.

William Colledge, of Wellsville, pleaded not guilty to having stolen $73. Attorneys George Noble and Charles Boyd were assigned to defend him.

John H. Johnson, an aged colored man of Salem, pleaded not guilty to having stolen lumber valued at $5 from Felix Williams, of that city.

Albert P. Gaskill, of East Liverpool, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stabbing with intent to kill George Townley on December 14. Attorney George T. Farrell, of Lisbon, was assigned to his defense.

Frank Dinning, of Wellsville, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery committed on Sadie Fishburn on October 13. He was first charged with another crime, but the grand jury indicted him for a less offense. He was sentenced to 30 days in the work-house.

Tony Juras, a Slav from Washingtonville, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stabbing with intent to kill and wound John Zombeck, a fellow countryman. Attorney Witt, of Columbiana, was assigned to his defense.

William Blakely, of East Liverpool, pleaded not guilty to pocket picking and larceny. He is charged with stealing $18.55 from Felix Hulise.

Frank Geiss, of Wellsville, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault and battery committed on Joseph McGee on November 1, and gave bond for $100. Geiss also pleaded not guilty to Sunday selling in his saloon in Wellsville and was put under bond of $100.

Stella Mears-Daugherty, of East Liverpool, against whom there are four indictments for Sunday selling and selling to a habitual, pleaded not guilty and was put under $200 bond.

John Ecker, Lewis Groubert, Charles Parker and John Heacock, all East Liverpool saloonkeepers and barkeepers, were put under bond of $100 each on charges of having sold to habituals.

Judge Hole, though he would probably have been open to the more serious charge of contempt of court.

MINERS LOST

No Hope for the 180 Men Shut Up in the Ill-Fated Harwick Mine.

Pittsburg, January 26.—(Special.)—Supt. Sheets, of the ill-fated Harwick mine at Cheswick, stated at noon today that not one of the 180 entombed men will be brought up alive.

The mine was totally wrecked by the explosion, and before the victims can be reached many days will be required to clear away the debris.

FOURTEEN MEN INSTANTLY KILLED

Hurled 1,500 Feet Into a Mine And Instantly Crushed to Death.

Cyclor, Col., January 26.—(Special.)—By the fall of a cage in Stratton's independent mine 14 men were hurled 1,500 feet below and were instantly killed.

JUDGMENT RENDERED

In Foreclosure Proceedings in Which East Liverpool Men Were Defendants.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—In the foreclosure proceedings of the Perpetual Savings and Loan company, of Wellsville, against D. M. Hilton et al., judgment for $1,249.07 has been rendered, in satisfaction of which the sheriff is ordered to sell a tract adjoining the Putman Land company's addition to East Liverpool.

Judgment for $825. has been rendered for the same plaintiff in a similar action against H. C. Stump et al., and the sheriff is ordered to sell a tract fronting on Central avenue, East Liverpool, in satisfaction of the claim.

The case of E. P. Thompson against Henry Roderus, of East Palestine, has been continued on motion of plaintiff.

COLORED BOYS SAVED HIS LIFE

George Drake Had a Very Narrow Escape From Being Drowned.

UNCONSCIOUS WHEN SAVED

That George Drake, a lad residing on Eighth street, was not drowned in an accident which occurred at the skating park yesterday, was due to the heroic efforts of two colored boys, Harry Mason and Taylor Kees. When the flood was at its height the ball ground and the Aten field adjoining were both completely under water. The cold snap that followed caused ice to form over both lots and yesterday morning the skating over the hollow was fine.

The excellent stretch of ice attracted a large number of skaters, and probably half a hundred men and boys were out nearly all day. During the afternoon Mason, Drake and Kees were skating near the fence which divided the two fields when Drake and Mason broke through the thin ice and went down into probably five feet of icy water.

Drake, from some cause, became unconscious at once, and Kees, who was a little in the background, yelled for Mason to keep his head above water until he could rescue them both. Drake was grabbed by young Mason just as he was going down for the last time, and he was kept afloat until Kees tore a board from the fence and assisted both boys to the shore.

Drake was still unconscious, and the bystanders thought he was dead. However, Kees and the others of the party dragged him about on the ice and after rubbing him with all their might, he finally showed signs of consciousness. The rescuers then took him home, and though he is still feeling the effects of the ducking, it is not thought any serious results will follow. Mason was also assisted to his home, where a suit of dry clothes and a good warming made him nearly as well as ever.

BEAL LAW ELECTION AT SALINEVILLE

Steps Being Taken to Provide for a Vote on the Question of Wet or Dry.

Salineville, January 26.—(Special.)—That Salineville will soon have an opportunity to vote on local option is fast becoming evident. Already several prominent men have been asked whether they would sign a petition to be presented to the village council, praying that an election be held to settle the vexed question of liquor selling within the corporate lines. The local organization of the W. C. T. U. is actively interested in feeling the public pulse on the question, and it is said that the petition is already drafted and only needs the signatures to complete it before it is presented to the village lawmakers.

The village has been well supplied with drinking places for long years. The general opinion is that the town would go wet if a vote was taken.

Edward M. Woolley.

Edward M. Woolley, aged 36, died at the Danaster House, Rochester, yesterday. He was a glass engraver. Ticket Agent John Woolley, of Wellsville, is a brother. His family, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Booth and Mrs. J. P. Myers, sisters of Mr. Woolley, will attend the funeral tomorrow. Mr. Woolley was a single man. He will be buried at Rochester tomorrow.

FOUR DESERTERS FROM THE ARMY

Are Said to Be Eluding the Arresting Officers in This City.

ON STREETS EVERY DAY

But the Police Do Not Disturb Them, Having Received No Orders to Do So—A Reward of $30 for Arrests is Paid.

Four regular army deserters are in the city. That is they are eluding the officers. The fact that they are here is known by every officer on the police force, but so far no attempt has been made to capture any of them. Just why the officers do not pick them up is not known, but probably it is because they are "pretty good fellows," and the officers do not feel that it is their bounden duty to attend to United States affairs.

Since the arrest and subsequent turning over to the United States authorities at Pittsburg of William Jackson, however, there has been some talk among the police of nabbing the deserters and an arrest or two may occur during the next few days. There is a reward of $30 paid to any officer who arrests a deserter and turns him over to the proper officials. He is also allowed all of his expenses. This fact generally is a strong incentive to officers, and it is wondered at a little in this city that the police do not take advantage of the opportunity to get hold of a hundred or so.

Another very good reason advanced by the police for not arresting the deserters is that although they are positive of their men they have received no word from the government officials, and as there is a probability of a mistake, they do not fancy the idea of making themselves liable for a paltry hundred.

The deserters are seen on the streets every day. They are well known local characters. It is said that they were born and raised in the city and only joined the army while out on a hobnobbing expedition when anything was preferable to starving. The fellows are known to scores of people and many of them have been wondering of late why a deserter is allowed to roam undisturbed in this city.

THE PLAINTIFF ALLEGES SLANDER

BRINGS SUIT AGAINST A NEIGHBOR FOR $1,000.

Interesting Case from Middleton Township Now on Trial at Lisbon.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—A slander suit from Middleton township in which James Atkinson, plaintiff, against Charles Bacon is suing for $1,000 damages, came on for trial this afternoon.

The plaintiff in his petition sets forth that on February 8, 1902, the defendant, in the presence of several others, used the following false and malicious language, "Jimmy, I have found out who took that coal; it was you who took the coal at the bank, and that is stealing. I want you to pay for it or say that you will or I will go and sue you, and you will have to pay for it."

Through his attorney, L. T. Farr, the defendant has filed an answer in which he admits using the language ascribed to him and further avers that the words are true. E. L. Lyon, of East Palestine, is the plaintiff's attorney and a large number of witnesses from Rogers and vicinity are present to testify in the case.

NOTED SWINDLER DROPPED DEAD

Whitaker Wright on Receiving a Seven-Years' Sentence Expired of Heart Disease.

London, January 26.—(Special.)—After being found guilty of fraud on all counts and being sentenced to serve seven years in a penal institution, Whitaker Wright started from the court room to his cell and dropped dead with heart disease.

No Quorum—No quorum was present at the board of education meeting last evening, and little business was discussed.

TO FIX TIME FOR PRIMARY ELECTION

Committee And Candidates Will Hold a Conference at Lisbon on January 30.

John S. McNutt, chairman of the Republican county central committee, has issued the following notice:

"Notice is hereby given that the members of the county central committee of Columbiana county will meet in conjunction with the aspirants for nomination at the coming county primaries at the court house in Lisbon on Saturday, January 30, 1904, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of fixing the time and adopting rules and regulations to govern the holding of the county primaries for the current year, and for the transaction of any and all business which may come before said meeting."

AS LIVELY AS A MARCH GALE

High Wind Strong Enough to Wreck Many Things in Its Wake.

A FINE WINDOW BROKEN

A violent blast of wind struck the heart of the city this afternoon at 2:05 o'clock and brought destruction to many things of a frail nature within its wake. Men, women and children were either felled or knocked against buildings, window panes were shattered as if they were made of paper, bricks were hurled from chimney tops and loose sign boards were blown like kites. The worst damage reported, however, was at Charles F. Craig's drug store, where one of the big plate glass front windows was crashed by a sign board which was wrenched from its holdings in front of the millinery store of Miss Leola Perry on Market street and sent with terrific speed on a disastrous mission.

Sanitary Officer Burgess and Officer McDermott were passing along the street at the time and were much frightened by the sudden crash. They immediately ran over to the drug store thinking that probably some occupant had been hurt by the flying glass. In their supposition they were mistaken, the proprietor and his clerk being at the rear of the store. Further than destroying the elegant glass the sign did no other damage. The glass is insured.

The play of the wind was the worst witnessed in the city in years and had it been of longer duration no doubt great damage would have resulted.

WATER PIPE BURST CAUSING DAMAGE

Surprise Store Suffered from a Break That Occurred in the Basement.

A water pipe burst in the basement of the Little building, in which is located the Surprise Clothing House, and considerable damage was done. The break occurred directly beneath the store room and was discovered by one of the clerks soon after the water began to escape.

Steps were immediately taken to prevent damage being done to the stock, but a large amount of water had been scattered through the basement by the time it was shut off. The surprise management has several departments in the lower story and none of the stock escaped some damage.

DRIFTED HELPLESSLY

The Towboat Charles Brown Carried From Newell to Steubenville.

The Charles Brown, with a large coal tow, in endeavoring to tie up at Newell's last night, broke one of her lines and drifted helplessly down the river to the Halfmoon farm above Steubenville, where the tow was placed under control and tied up.

Six of the crew of the towboat Export, which tied up last night at Newell, left the boat this morning. The men claimed to have shipped from Pittsburg at a rate of wages of $50 per month and on coming down the river were informed that they were to receive but $40. The Export had a mixed cargo of freight bound for its way down, six men short.

A WARM TIME EXPECTED IN CITY COUNCIL TONIGHT

Mayor and Solicitor Cannot Agree on Contingent Fund and a Tempest Is Likely.

RAILROAD ORDINANCE MAY BE PASSED

The regular meeting of council tonight will be a warm one. It will be worth the while of any citizen to wend his way in the direction of city hall, because there certainly will be something doing. Mayor Weaver and the city solicitor are at loggerheads over the appropriation ordinance, the councilmen are fighting among themselves over the railroad ordinance and little less than a tempest is booked.

As previously stated, the mayor and the solicitor cannot agree on the intended meaning of the code as it relates to a contingent fund. The mayor believes that it should all be incorporated into one fund, while the solicitor argues that it can be decided and apportioned to any of the funds named in the ordinance. What the councilmen as a whole think about the question is not known, but Mr. Bullock announces that he holds the same opinion as that advanced by the mayor. It was the wish of the mayor that a meeting be held this afternoon for the purpose of coming to a mutual agreement on the question and he insists that unless such an agreement is reached he will most assuredly veto the measure. The mayor was busy today preparing his argument and it will be submitted to council for its consideration. One councilman stated this morning that he expected the ordinance would be passed over the mayor's veto.

There seems to be but one councilman with any particular grievance against the railroad ordinance. That gentleman is Mr. Johnson. Though it is not a certainty it is very likely that the ordinance will be passed tonight. City Engineer Kelly investigated the ordinance yesterday and pronounced it very explicit so far as the lines designating the tracks are concerned, and as that was the chief bone of contention at the last meeting it is thought the councilmen can come to some sort of an agreement to pass the ordinance.

EAST ENDERS TO STAND FIRM

Don't Propose to Pay Pennsylvania Avenue Assessments Just Yet, Anyway.

A LEGAL BATTLE FIRST

"East End property owners," said one of them today, "think there is an attempt being made to bluff them into paying the assessments for the improvement of Pennsylvania avenue or to create a fear that extra costs and penalties will be added if they do not pay by February 9, the date of the bond sale. Only the regular interest charge can be added, and as very few people pay such assessments in advance the situation is only ordinary."

"The auditor states that he will move along in the regular manner with the collections and those not paid will be certified to the auditor at Lisbon, to be collected with interest. He may do this, but already attorneys representing several hundred East End property owners have entered a suit in common pleas court to restrain the auditor from placing the assessments on the tax duplicate. The attorneys and others interested with the plaintiff, Mrs. Martin, are confident they can perpetually prevent the collection of the tax as a special assessment."

"The assessments will not be placed on the tax duplicate until next September and until that time no penalty, other than interest, can be added. If the Martin suit is successful, the attorneys claim the special assessment will be defeated and the cost of the improvement must be collected as a general tax. If the suit, and others soon to be brought, are not determined by September, an injunction will be asked."

Those interested in the suit are much aroused and claim the interests of every property owner will be looked after and that all will stand or fall together.

MAYOR NOW HAS FINAL JURISDICTION

May Dispose of All Misdemeanor Cases Without Sending Them to Grand Jury.

The power of Mayor Weaver and every other mayor in the state has been greatly extended by the passage of the Rawson bill which was signed by Governor Herrick and is now a law. The bill provides that the mayors of the several cities of the state shall have final disposition in misdemeanor cases.

Thus a petty larceny or an assault and battery case can be disposed of without being sent up to common pleas court or to the grand jury or probate court.

BRUTALITY TO A SMALL BOY

The Charge on Which Bert Roush Seeks Runyon's Arrest.

THE LAD BADLY INJURED

Infuriated over the alleged mistreatment of his little boy, Bert Roush was only prevented wreaking vengeance on a man by the name of Runyon last evening by the latter refusing to answer his summons to come to the front door and give an explanation of his alleged brutality. Unable to satisfy his angered spirit with a fist encounter, Roush appeared before the mayor this morning and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Runyon, charging him with assault and battery.

Roush claims that his boy, Oscar, aged 8 years, was playing on the front porch of a house which is partly occupied by Runyon and that the latter kicked the boy in the groin. He says the boy was ordered to get off the porch and was doing so when Runyon made the attack on him. The little fellow was scarcely able to reach his home a short distance away, and all of last night writhed in terrible agony, complaining continuously of excruciating pain where the force of the blow was spent.

When the boy arrived home and told his story the father's anger was immediately aroused and he started to the Runyon home to have a reckoning. He declares that blood would have been spattered the face of Runyon had they met. Runyon, he says, would not come to the door, but sent his wife to tell him that he was busy and would see him again. This simply strengthened the fury of the father and he swore then and there that the law would take its course if he could not deal out justice himself. Roush avers that his boy was given permission to play on the porch, and even if he was not doing the right thing Runyon overstepped the bounds of propriety and should suffer.

The warrant was given to Officer Dunn to serve and Runyon will likely face the mayor this evening. The case will not be heard, however, until Saturday or later, as Roush left at noon for Point Pleasant to attend the funeral of his grandmother.

Suit on a Note.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—David Smith, surviving member of the firm of Smith & Crawford, hardware dealers of East Palestine, has brought suit against Eli Hoffman for $122.75 with interest from March 1, 1897, alleged to be due on account for hardware, paint, and other articles of like nature.

HANOVERTON TOWN MARSHAL'S JAG

It Cost Him Something to Exhibit It Before the Columbiana County Grand Jury.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—Prosecuting Attorney M. J. McGarry is determined to break up the practice of grand jury witnesses coming before that body in an intoxicated condition, and the first case of that character that has been brought up in many years was disposed of by Judge Hole yesterday.

Ed Sloss, the village marshal of Hanoverton, was before the recent grand jury as a witness and was said to have been so intoxicated that his conduct was notoriously disorderly. He is said to have berated and abused the jurors and to have shaken his fist in the face of one elderly gentleman and said: "You and all the rest of them are hypocrites." As he left the room he turned in the doorway and said: "Remember, gentlemen, I am still the marshal of Hanoverton." He was permitted to plead guilty yesterday to a common charge of drunkenness and was fined $5 and costs by

This fact generally is a strong incentive to officers, and it is wondered at a little in this city that the police do not take advantage of the opportunity to get hold of a hundred or so.

Another very good reason advanced by the police for not arresting the deserters is that although they are positive of their men they have received no word from the government officials, and as there is a probability of a mistake, they do not fancy the idea of making themselves liable for a paltry hundred.

The deserters are seen on the streets every day. They are well known local characters. It is said that they were born and raised in the city and only joined the army while out on a hobnobbing expedition when anything was preferable to starving. The fellows are known to scores of people and many of them have been wondering of late why a deserter is allowed to roam undisturbed in this city.

THE PLAINTIFF ALLEGES SLANDER

BRINGS SUIT AGAINST A NEIGHBOR FOR $1,000.

Interesting Case from Middletown Township Now on Trial at Lisbon.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special).—A slander suit from Middletown township in which James Atkinson, plaintiff, against Charles Bacon is suing for $1,000 damages, came on for trial this afternoon.

The plaintiff in his petition sets forth that on February 8, 1902, the defendant, in the presence of several others, used the following false and malicious language: "Jimmy, I have found out who took that coal; it was you who took the coal at the bank, and that is stealing. I want you to pay for it or say that you will or I will go and sue you, and you will have to pay for it."

Through his attorney, L. T. Farr, the defendant has filed an answer in which he admits using the language ascribed to him and further avers that the words are true. E. L. Lyon, of East Palestine, is the plaintiff's attorney and a large number of witnesses from Rogers and vicinity are present to testify in the case.

NOTED SWINDLER DROPPED DEAD

Whitaker Wright on Receiving a Seven-Years' Sentence Expired of Heart Disease.

TO FIX TIME FOR PRIMARY ELECTION

Committee And Candidates Will Hold a Conference at Lisbon on January 30.

John S. McNutt, chairman of the Republican county central committee, has issued the following notice:

"Notice is hereby given that the members of the county central committee of Columbiana county will meet in conjunction with the aspirants for nomination at the coming county primaries at the court house in Lisbon on Saturday, January 30, 1904, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of fixing the time and adopting rules and regulations to govern the holding of the county primaries for the current year, and for the transaction of any and all business which may come before said meeting."

AS LIVELY AS A MARCH GALE

High Wind Strong Enough to Wreck Many Things in Its Wake.

A FINE WINDOW BROKEN

A violent blast of wind struck the heart of the city this afternoon at 2:05 o'clock and brought destruction to many things of a frail nature within its wake. Men, women and children were either felled or knocked against buildings, window panes were shattered as if they were made of paper, bricks were hurled from chimney tops and loose sign boards were blown like kites. The worst damage reported, however, was at Charles F. Craig's drug store, where one of the big plate glass front windows was crashed by a sign board which was wrenched from its holdings in front of the millinery store of Miss Leola Perry on Market street and sent with terrific speed on a disastrous mission.

Sanitary Officer Burgess and Officer McDermott were passing along the street at the time and were much frightened by the sudden crash. They immediately ran over to the drug store thinking that probably some occupant had been hurt by the flying glass. In their supposition they were mistaken. The proprietor and his clerk being at the rear of the store. Further than destroying the elegant glass the sign did no other damage. The glass is insured.

The play of the wind was the worst witnessed in the city in years and had it been of longer duration no doubt great damage would have resulted.

WATER PIPE BURST CAUSING DAMAGE

Surprise Store Suffered from a Break That Occurred in the Basement.

A water pipe burst in the basement of the Little building, in which is located the Surprise Clothing House, and considerable damage was done. The break occurred directly beneath the store room and was discovered by one of the clerks soon after the water began to escape.

Steps were immediately taken to prevent damage being done to the stock, but a large amount of water had been scattered through the basement by the time it was shut off. The surprise management has several departments in the lower story and none of the stock escaped some damage.

DRIFTED HELPLESSLY

The Towboat Charles Brown Carried From Newell to Steubenville.

The Charles Brown, with a large coal tow, in endeavoring to tie up at Newell's last night, broke one of her lines and drifted helplessly down the river to the Halfmoon farm above Steubenville, where the tow was placed under control and tied up.

Six of the crew of the towboat Newport, which tied up last night at Newell, left the boat this morning. The men claimed to have shipped from Pittsburg at a rate of wages of $50 per month and on coming down the river were informed that they were to receive but $10. The Export had a mixed cargo of freight bound for on its way down, six men short.

A WARM TIME EXPECTED IN CITY COUNCIL TONIGHT

Mayor and Solicitor Cannot Agree on Contingent Fund and a Tempest Is Likely.

RAILROAD ORDINANCE MAY BE PASSED

The regular meeting of council tonight will be a warm one. It will be worth the while of any citizen to wend his way in the direction of city hall, because there certainly will be something doing. Mayor Weaver and the city solicitor are at loggerheads over the appropriation ordinance, the councilmen are fighting among themselves over the railroad ordinance and little less than a tempest is booked.

As previously stated, the mayor and the solicitor cannot agree on the intended meaning of the code as it relates to a contingent fund. The mayor believes that it should all be incorporated into one fund, while the solicitor argues that it can be decided and apportioned to any of the funds named in the ordinance. What the councilmen as a whole think about the question is not known, but Mr. Bullock announces that he holds the same opinion as that advanced by the mayor. It was the wish of the mayor that a meeting be held this afternoon for the purpose of coming to a mutual agreement on the question and he insists that unless such an agreement is reached he will most assuredly veto the measure. The mayor was busy today preparing his argument and it will be submitted to council for its consideration. One councilman stated this morning that he expected the ordinance would be passed over the mayor's veto.

There seems to be but one councilman with any particular grievance against the railroad ordinance. That gentleman is Mr. Johnson. Though it is not a certainty it is very likely that the ordinance will be passed tonight. City Engineer Kelly investigated the ordinance yesterday and pronounced it very explicit so far as the lines designating the tracks are concerned, and as that was the chief bone of contention at the last meeting it is thought the councilmen can come to some sort of an agreement to pass the ordinance.

EAST ENDERS TO STAND FIRM

Don't Propose to Pay Pennsylvania Avenue Assessments Just Yet, Anyway.

A LEGAL BATTLE FIRST

"East End property owners," said one of them today, "think there is an attempt being made to bluff them into paying the assessments for the improvement of Pennsylvania avenue or to create a fear that extra costs and penalties will be added if they do not pay by February 9, the date of the bond sale. Only the regular interest charge can be added, and as very few people pay such assessments in advance the situation is only ordinary."

"The auditor states that he will move along in the regular manner with the collections and those not paid will be certified to the auditor at Lisbon, to be collected with interest. He may do this, but already attorneys representing several hundred East End property owners have entered a suit in common pleas court to restrain the auditor from placing the assessments on the tax duplicate. The attorneys and others interested with the plaintiff, Mrs. Martin, are confident they can perpetually prevent the collection of the tax as a special assessment."

"The assessments will not be placed on the tax duplicate until next September and until that time no penalty, other than interest, can be added. If the Martin suit is successful, the attorneys claim the special assessment will be defeated and the cost of the improvement must be collected as a general tax. If the suit, and others soon to be brought, are not determined by September, an injunction will be asked."

Those interested in the suit are much aroused and claim the interests of every property owner will be looked after and that all will stand or fall together.

MAYOR NOW HAS FINAL JURISDICTION

May Dispose of All Misdemeanor Cases Without Sending Them to Grand Jury.

The power of Mayor Weaver and every other mayor in the state has been greatly extended by the passage of the Rawson bill which was signed by Governor Herrick and is now a law. The bill provides that the mayors of the several cities of the state shall have final disposition in misdemeanor cases.

Thus a petty larceny or an assault and battery case can be disposed of without being sent up to common pleas court or to the grand jury or probate court.

BRUTALITY TO A SMALL BOY

The Charge on Which Bert Roush Seeks Runyon's Arrest.

THE LAD BADLY INJURED

Infuriated over the alleged mistreatment of his little boy, Bert Roush was only prevented wreaking vengeance on a man by the name of Runyon last evening by the latter refusing to answer his summons to come to the front door and give an explanation of his alleged brutality. Unable to satisfy his angered spirit with a fistful encounter, Roush appeared before the mayor this morning and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Runyon, charging him with assault and battery.

Roush claims that his boy, Oscar, aged 8 years, was playing on the front porch of a house which is partly occupied by Runyon and that the latter kicked the boy in the groin. He says the boy was ordered to get off the porch and was doing so when Runyon made the attack on him. The little fellow was scarcely able to reach his home a short distance away, and all of last night writhed in terrible agony, complaining continuously of excruciating pain where the force of the blow was spent.

When the boy arrived home and told his story the father's anger was immediately aroused and he started to the Runyon home to have a reckoning. He declares that blood would have been spilled the face of Runyon had they met. Runyon, he says, would not come to the door, but sent his wife to tell him that he was busy and would see him again. This simply strengthened the fury of the father and he swore then and there that the law would take its course if he could not deal out justice himself. Roush avers that his boy was given permission to play on the porch, and even if he was not doing the right thing Runyon overstepped the bounds of propriety and should suffer.

The warrant was given to Officer Dunn to serve and Runyon will likely face the mayor this evening. The case will not be heard, however, until Saturday or later, as Roush left at noon for Point Pleasant to attend the funeral of his grandmother.

Suit on a Note.

Lisbon January 26.—(Special).—David Smith, surviving member of the firm of Smith & Crawford, hardware dealers of East Palestine, has brought suit against Eli Hoffman for $122.75 with interest from March 1, 1897, alleged to be due on account for hardware, paint, and other articles of like nature.

INTERESTING DECISION.

The following recent decision by the interstate commerce commission is of more than ordinary importance: "Before allowing a carload rating to a carload shipment a carrier is entitled to require that the goods shall be loaded at one time and place, and that but a single bill of lading shall be issued, and that the shipment shall be from one consignor to one consignee, but when the goods are so loaded and by the terms of sale become the property of the consignee upon delivery to the carrier, the carrier has no right to inquire whether the consignee obtained his title from one or several owners; and if it accords the carload rate in case the assignee is the owner, failure on its part to extend the same privilege when the consignee is the owner, violate section one, two and three of the act to regulate commerce. The rule in defendants' classification covering the application of carload rates to carload lots should be so modified as to accord the same rating to consignor and consignee when the condition of ownership after the property is delivered to the carrier is the same." Upon the question whether a carrier may distinguish between a forwarding agent and the actual owner of the goods no opinion is expressed.

WANT JESTER.

Since the candidacy of Eugene Jester for the position of deputy inspector of factories and workshops was announced, a great deal of interest has been manifested by the operative potters and others employed in local workshops. It has been demonstrated more clearly in the past few years than ever before that the men who spend their time day after day within the factories should have something to say in the selection of the men who shall protect their interests as employees. It is a well known fact that the factory laws have been disregarded in East Liverpool to a greater or less extent for years, and the operative potters are awake to the truth that no remedy will ever be found until a man is placed in charge who will enforce the law. In Mr. Jester they believe they have such a man, and he will be supported almost unanimously.

A VALUABLE WORK.

The most remarkable and costly book ever published in the United States, says a southern exchange, is a history of the manufacture of oriental pottery. Only 500 copies were issued and they cost $50,000. The book was prepared by William T. Walters, the well known art collector of Baltimore, assisted by linguists, artists and ceramic experts from various parts of the world. The illustrations were first made in water color and were then lithographed. Nine years were spent in preparing the plates, a single illustration some times requiring 50 stones. The stones thus used piled up would make a monument 300 feet high. The book is an imperial folio, 11x13 inches and contains 119 colored plates and 437 black and white half tones.

LOCAL INVENTOR.

William Polk, former proprietor of the Thompson house, East Liverpool, has invented a sagger making machine which he expects will revolutionize the present methods of making sagers. He has been working on his invention some time and has tested the new machine thoroughly. Mr. Polk has invited a number of pottery experts to witness a demonstration of its merits this week.

PROSPECTS GOOD.

The majority of the modelers in the East Liverpool district report an improvement in trade since the beginning of the new year. Business for several weeks before the holiday shut-down was rather quiet and few designers had work enough to give them steady employment. Since the holidays, however, a number of good contracts have been placed.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The American Ceramic society will hold its annual meeting in Cincinnati, commencing February 1. The educational work of this society is widely known at home and abroad and the society is a source of pride to all artistic clayworkers. The headquarters will be at the Grand hotel.

MAKING ALTERATIONS.

The Colonial company is making some improvements in their glaze room which will greatly facilitate matters in that end of their plant. The company anticipates a successful year for 1904.

CHANGES IN ROUTE

Favored By Some Patrons of the Rural Delivery Running from Salineville.

Salineville, January 26.—(Special.)—A rural free delivery inspector has been in the village looking over route No. 1 on which some changes have been recommended by the citizens of Washington township. It is set forth in a petition that it would serve more patrons and obviate a certain bad piece of road if a change could be made. A part of the route as now traveled becomes well nigh impassable during the spring when the roads break up. Some distance must be covered before the patrons are reached and it is argued by those who are seeking the change that a big saving could be made to the carrier.

There are several who are not favoring the plan to change the route after it has been established for over a year, and the department will receive a counter claim against the change as recommended by the citizens. The inspector did not give out much encouragement when here, but his report will be acted upon by the department.

SAVED THE LITTLE FELLOW

A Big Dog Didn't Like Water, But Couldn't See a Companion Drown.

It is said that while the creek at Lisbon was at its highest and full of running ice that a well known man about town came down to see the sight and brought with him his two dogs, one a small black dog, the other a bull dog. He amused himself for a time by throwing sticks into the water and urging his dogs to bring them back to shore. The little black dog would go in readily, but no persuasion or coaxing could induce the bull dog to venture in. Finally the little fellow in some way became fastened in the floating ice with his head above the water and his fore paws on a cake of ice. Then it was that the bull dog showed the stuff of which he was made, and jumping in, caught his little black friend by the back of the neck and brought him to the shore in safety.

The sagacity and good sense thus shown is remarkable and this bull dog ought to be awarded a life saver's medal.

An Old Soldier's Argument.

G. W. Churchill, of Clay Center, Neb., writes the National Tribune asking all veterans to urge congress to pass a bill, allowing every old soldier who has not had a homestead benefit, either 100 acres or $22 in cash, which is the government price of 100 acres when sold to a settler. He says: It is estimated that 1,000,000 foreigners come to this country in a year; they take our lands, and in a short time there will be none left to homesteaders. He thinks the old soldiers who fought the country's battles should have homesteads before the foreigners who have done nothing for the country.

Secured a Nurse.

Salineville, January 26.—(Special.)—The trustees of Franklin township have secured the services of Henry Allison, a clay man at the pottery, to nurse the smallpox cases in the Benson family, two miles above Salineville. The entire family is now down with the disease, and it was found necessary to get outside help.

REVENGE THE MOTIVE

Police Think Miss Schaefer Was Murdered by Jilted Suitor.

HEITGER ASSERTS INNOCENCE

Young College Athlete Not Believed to Be Connected With Crime That Has Shocked Whole Country—Detectives on Hunt of Evidence.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 26.—Detectives at work on the mystery of the murder of Miss Sarah Schaefer, teacher of Latin in the Bedford schools, believe that they have established a motive for the crime. They are satisfied that the tall man in the long overcoat that was seen lurking in the vicinity of the Johnson house is the murderer, and that the man is the one who was annoying Miss Schaefer.

The police believe that this man was enamored of Miss Schaefer and that she had repulsed him. Brooding over his passion for the young woman, determined to have an interview with her, the police think the man had made up his mind to kill her if she again resisted his advances, and watched for her as she left the Johnson boarding house. He kept on the opposite side of the street until Captain Alexander had entered the Windstandley house and then overtook her.

Joseph Heitger, whose name has been mentioned in connection with that of Sarah Schaefer, at Bloomington stated that the talk that he was in any way connected with Miss Schaefer is false.

"You may say," said Heitger, "that I met Miss Schaefer only once. I never was at her house to call on her. I talked to her only in the presence of Miss Knox and we talked of George Shaw and James Dodd, two Elkhart boys whom she knew. I never wrote a word to her in my life nor received a word from her, and have hardly spoken to her since Thanksgiving night, when I met her at the basketball game."

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 26.—Mrs. Frank Gross of Chicago, a sister of Miss Schaefer, who was murdered at Bedford, is in Elkhart to attend Miss Schaefer's funeral. Mrs. Gross said a letter written by Miss Schaefer complaining of annoyance by a man while calling on her gave the name of Heitger, saying that after he had spent a pleasant evening he got smart and she showed him the door, after getting his hat and coat. Neither the letter written by Sarah nor Mrs. Gross's reply, which was signed Edna, dwelt on the incident.

The Schaefer family says that it does not think Heitger had any connection with the crime and that his indiscretion was simply the boyish act of one who did not realize Sarah's aversion to unseemly conduct.

CASHIER GOES WRONG.

New Hampshire Bank Compelled to Close by Big Defalcation.

Nashua, N. H., Jan. 26.—John P. Goggin, treasurer of the Nashua Trust company, has been arrested charged with embezzling $80,000 or $100,000. The concern has closed its doors.

Goggin was held in $10,000 bonds. He made no statement, but it was said that his downfall was not due to speculation, but to his having given assistance from time to time to a friend. Goggin is one of the most prominent bank officials in New Hampshire and is well known in banking circles in Boston, Lowell and other Massachusetts cities.

An attachment of $50,000 was placed on the property held by Goggin in this city by the bank. Real estate of George E. Gage of Manchester was levied upon to recover on a promissory note for $20,000. Another attachment for the $12,000 also has been filed against real estate owned by Gage in this city. Gage was formerly a bank official here.

The directors have issued a statement assuring depositors that they will lose nothing.

The Taffy Pull

Karo
CORN SYRUP

The Great Spread for Daily Bread.

Is far superior to any other syrup for making taffy or candy of any kind. Try the following recipe. It is convincing.

Four small tin of Karo Corn Syrup into a kettle holding four times the amount of syrup used and boil over a slow fire for half hour, stirring all the time to prevent boiling over and burning. When a little dropped in cold water becomes hard, snappy, add 1/4 of teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, stir quickly and thoroughly, then pour on greased platters. When cool enough to handle without burning the hands, pull. A little butter rubbed on the hands will keep it from sticking. The more it is pulled the whiter it becomes. Flavor to suit.

Karo Corn Syrup is good for all home uses from griddle cakes to candy. Sold in airtight, friction-top tins, 10c, 25c, 50c. All grocers.

INTERESTING DECISION.

The following recent decision by the Interstate commerce commission is of more than ordinary importance: "Before allowing a railroad rating to a railroad shipment a carrier is entitled to require that the goods shall be loaded at one time and place, and that but a single bill of lading shall be issued, and that the shipment shall be from one consignor to one consignee, but when the goods are so loaded and by the terms of sale become the property of the consignee upon delivery to the carrier, the carrier has no right to inquire whether the consignee obtained his title from one or several owners; and if it accords the railroad rate in case the assignee is the owner, failure on its part to extend the same privilege when the consignee is the owner, violate section one, two and three of the act to regulate commerce. The rule in defendants' classification covering the application of railroad rates to railroad lots should be so modified as to accord the same rating to consignor and consignee when the condition of ownership after the property is delivered to the carrier is the same." Upon the question whether a carrier may distinguish between a forwarding agent and the actual owner of the goods no opinion is expressed.

WANT JESTER.

Since the candidacy of Eugene Jester for the position of deputy inspector of factories and workshops was announced, a great deal of interest has been manifested by the operative potters and others employed in local workshops. It has been demonstrated more clearly in the past few years than ever before that the men who spend their time day after day within the factories should have something to say in the selection of the men who shall protect their interests as employees. It is a well known fact that the factory laws have been disregarded in East Liverpool to a greater or less extent for years, and the operative potters are awake to the truth that no remedy will ever be found until a man is placed in charge who will enforce the law. In Mr. Jester they believe they have such a man, and he will be supported almost unanimously.

A VALUABLE WORK.

The most remarkable and costly book ever published in the United States, says a southern exchange, is a history of the manufacture of oriental pottery. Only 500 copies were issued and they cost $50,000. The book was prepared by William T. Walters, the well known art collector of Baltimore, assisted by linguists, artists and ceramic experts from various parts of the world. The illustrations were first made in water color and were then lithographed. Nine years were spent in preparing the plates, a single illustration some times requiring 50 stones. The stones thus used piled up would make a monument 300 feet high. The book is an imperial folio, 11x13 inches and contains 119 colored plates and 437 black and white half tones.

LOCAL INVENTOR.

William Polk, former proprietor of the Thompson house, East Liverpool, has invented a sagger making machine which he expects will revolutionize the present methods of making saggars. He has been working on his invention some time and has tested the new machine thoroughly. Mr. Polk has invited a number of pottery experts to witness a demonstration of its merits this week.

PROSPECTS GOOD.

The majority of the modelers in the East Liverpool district report an improvement in trade since the beginning of the new year. Business for several weeks before the holiday shutdown was rather quiet and few designers had work enough to give them steady employment. Since the holidays, however, a number of good contracts have been placed.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The American Ceramic society will hold its annual meeting in Cincinnati, commencing February 1. The educational work of this society is widely known at home and abroad and the society is a source of pride to all artistic clayworkers. The headquarters will be at the Grand hotel.

MAKING ALTERATIONS.

The Colonial company is making some improvements in their glaze room which will greatly facilitate matters in that end of their plant. The company anticipates a successful year for 1904.

CHANGES IN ROUTE

Favored By Some Patrons of the Rural Delivery Running from Salineville.

Salineville, January 26.—(Special.)

A rural free delivery inspector has been in the village looking over route No. 1 on which some changes have been recommended by the citizens of Washington township. It is set forth in a petition that it would serve more patrons and obviate a certain bad piece of road if a change could be made. A part of the route as now traveled becomes well high impassable during the spring when the roads break up. Some distance must be covered before the patrons are reached and it is argued by those who are seeking the change that a big saving could be made to the carrier.

There are several who are not favoring the plan to change the route after it has been established for over a year, and the department will receive a counter claim against the change as recommended by the citizens. The inspector did not give out much encouragement when here, but his report will be acted upon by the department.

SAVED THE LITTLE FELLOW

A Big Dog Didn't Like Water, But Couldn't See a Companion Drown.

It is said that while the creek at Lisbon was at its highest and full of running ice that a well known man about town came down to see the sight and brought with him his two dogs, one a small black dog, the other a bull dog. He amused himself for a time by throwing sticks into the water and urging his dogs to bring them back to shore. The little black dog would go in readily, but no persuasion or coaxing could induce the bull dog to venture in. Finally the little fellow in some way became fastened in the floating ice with his head above the water and his fore paws on a cake of ice. Then it was that the bull dog showed the stuff of which he was made, and jumping in, caught his little black friend by the back of the neck and brought him to the shore in safety.

The sagacity and good sense thus shown is remarkable and this bull dog ought to be awarded a life saver's medal.

An Old Soldier's Argument.

G. W. Churchill, of Clay Center, Neb., writes the National Tribune asking all veterans to urge congress to pass a bill, allowing every old soldier who has not had a homestead benefit, either 100 acres or $22 in cash, which is the government price of 100 acres when sold to a settler. He says: It is estimated that 1,000,000 foreigners come to this country in a year; they take our lands, and in a short time there will be none left to homesteaders. He thinks the old soldiers who fought the country's battles should have homesteads before the foreigners who have done nothing for the country.

Secured a Nurse.

Salineville, January 26.—(Special.)—The trustees of Franklin township have secured the services of Henry Allison, a clay man at the pottery, to nurse the smallpox cases in the Benson family, two miles above Salineville. The entire family is now down with the disease, and it was found necessary to get outside help.

REVENGE THE MOTIVE

Police Think Miss Schaefer Was Murdered by Jilted Suitor.

HEITGER ASSERTS INNOCENCE

Young College Athlete Not Believed to Be Connected With Crime That Has Shocked Whole Country—Detectives on Hunt of Evidence.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 26.—Detectives at work on the mystery of the murder of Miss Sarah Schaefer, teacher of Latin in the Bedford schools, believe that they have established a motive for the crime. They are satisfied that the tall man in the long overcoat that was seen lurking in the vicinity of the Johnson house is the murderer, and that the man is the one who was annoying Miss Schaefer.

The police believe that this man was enamored of Miss Schaefer and that she had repulsed him. Brooding over his passion for the young woman, determined to have an interview with her, the police think the man had made up his mind to kill her if she again resisted his advances, and watched for her as she left the Johnson boarding house. He kept on the opposite side of the street until Captain Alexander had entered the Winstandley house and then overtook her.

Joseph Heitger, whose name has been mentioned in connection with that of Sarah Schaefer, at Bloomington stated that the talk that he was in any way connected with Miss Schaefer is false.

"You may say," said Heitger, "that I met Miss Schaefer only once. I never was at her house to call on her. I talked to her only in the presence of Miss Knox and we talked of George Shaw and James Dodd, two Elkhart boys whom she knew. I never wrote a word to her in my life nor received a word from her, and have hardly spoken to her since Thanksgiving night, when I met her at the basketball game."

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 26.—Mrs. Frank Gross of Chicago, a sister of Miss Schaefer, who was murdered at Bedford, is in Elkhart to attend Miss Schaefer's funeral. Mrs. Gross said a letter written by Miss Schaefer complaining of annoyance by a man while calling on her gave the name of Heitger, saying that after he had spent a pleasant evening he got smart and she showed him the door, after getting his hat and coat. Neither the letter written by Sarah nor Mrs. Gross's reply, which was signed Edna, dwelt on the incident.

The Schaefer family says that it does not think Heitger had any connection with the crime and that his indiscretion was simply the boyish act of one who did not realize Sarah's aversion to unseemly conduct.

CASHIER GOES WRONG.

New Hampshire Bank Compelled to Close by Big Defalcation.

Nashua, N. H., Jan. 26.—John P. Goggin, treasurer of the Nashua Trust company, has been arrested charged with embezzling $80,000 or $100,000. The concern has closed its doors. Goggin was held in $10,000 bonds. He made no statement, but it was said that his downfall was not due to speculation, but to his having given assistance from time to time to a friend. Goggin is one of the most prominent bank officials in New Hampshire and is well known in banking circles in Boston, Lowell and other Massachusetts cities.

An attachment of $50,000 was placed on the property held by Goggin in this city by the bank. Real estate of George E. Gage of Manchester was levied upon to recover on a promissory note for $20,000. Another attachment for the $12,000 also has been filed against real estate owned by Gage in this city. Gage was formerly a bank official here.

The directors have issued a statement assuring depositors that they will lose nothing.

The Taffy Pull

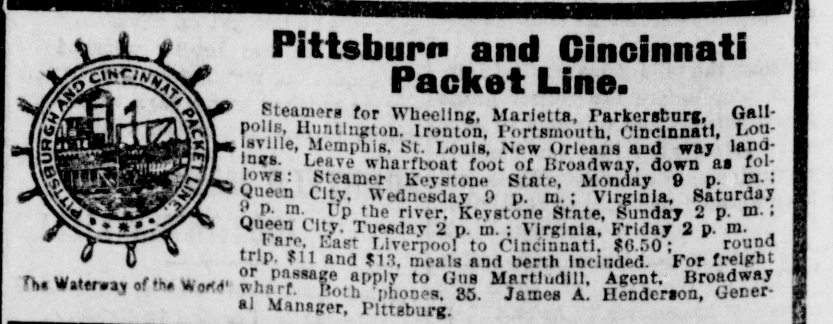

The Great Spread for Daily Bread. KARO CORN SYRUP

Is far superior to any other syrup for making taffy or candy of any kind. Try the following recipe. It is convincing.

Four a small tin of Karo Corn Syrup into a kettle holding four times the amount of syrup used and boil over a slow fire for half hour, stirring all the time to prevent boiling over and burning. When a little dropped in cold water becomes hard, snappy, add 1/2 of teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, stir quickly and thoroughly, then pour on greased platters. When cool enough to handle without burning the hands, pull. A little butter rubbed on the hands will keep it from sticking. The more it is pulled the whiter it becomes. Flavor to suit.

Karo Corn Syrup is good for all home uses from griddle cakes to candy. Sold in airtight, friction-top tins, 10c, 25c, 50c. All grocers.

EMINENT DOCTORS PRAISE MUCU-TONE

NOW can we measure the importance to mankind of the discovery of an absolute cure for catarrh, that dreaded malady which attacks the mucous membrane or delicate underlining of the skin of the body.

The disease which for years has discouraged scientists—the disease which numbers 12,000,000 men and women sufferers in the United States alone.

The heads of great hospitals, where scores of catarrhal patients are treated each year, are perhaps in the best position to appreciate the value of a remedy, which working along scientific, intelligent lines, brings permanent cure to even the chronic sufferer.

The staff of physicians of the Suffolk Hospital and Dispensary in Boston, where in less than two years 83,271 patients have registered, do not hesitate to pronounce Rexall Mucu-Tone the best cure for catarrh they have ever used.

Albert C. Smith is the president and treasurer and the Hon. Chas. J. Noyes and the Hon. James Stevens are vice-presidents. The secretary is F. H. Wallace, M. D., and the superintendent is W. C. Clarke, M. D.

President Smith's letter should be read by every catarrh sufferer. We print it in full:

"It gives me great satisfaction to report to you that after a most careful trial of Rexall Mucu-Tone, the corps of physicians of our institution agree that this compound is the best cure for catarrh which we have ever used."

"In all catarrhal diseases of the bronchial and nasal passages; catarrh of the stomach, intestines, kidneys and bladder; catarrhal troubles of the generative organs of women, etc., Mucu-Tone has effected remarkable permanent cures."

"Mucu-Tone seems to act immediately upon the blood and mucous membranes, strengthens their cells and healing the inflammation."

"We shall continue to use this valuable preparation, for nothing can compare with it in the treatment of catarrh and its kindred troubles."

"Yours very truly,
A. C. SMITH, President."

Certainly such testimony as this must convince even the most skeptical—certainly it will justify us in requesting catarrh sufferers to give Rexall Mucu-Tone a trial; to give it a chance to speak for itself. If you will do this we know you will continue taking it until cured.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is unlike all other catarrh remedies. It works through the bloodvessels, going direct to the affected part whether in head, throat, stomach, kidneys or bladder; driving out the poisons and healing all inflammations of the mucous membranes. From the very first dose its strengthening influence will be felt and from four to six bottles will effect a complete cure of the worst cases. Your money back if not more than satisfied.

EAST END FREE DELIVERY FOR THE EAST END

The Service Will Be Established February 1 With George A. Smith as Carrier.

Postmaster W. H. Surles has received word from the postoffice department at Washington that free delivery will be established in the East End February 1. The postmaster is authorized to employ one additional carrier to be assigned to Station A and serve all residents of that section who have complied with the requirements regarding good sidewalks, street lights, house numbers and names of streets posted at intersections.

The inspector recommended that the occupants of the houses in Edgewood addition opposite the free delivery limit be notified to erect boxes on the street at the foot of the steps leading to their residences, and that if this is done the carrier will be instructed to deposit their mail in said boxes, but that an additional carrier cannot be granted for this addition at this time.

The postmaster is also authorized to expend the sum of $150 per annum for horse hire in the free delivery service for the use of Collector Henry Bevington, who has been furnishing horse and cart at his own expense in making the daily collections.

Postmaster Surles will recommend that Substitute Carrier George A. Smith, of the East End, be made the regular East End carrier, working from the East End postoffice. Mr. Smith is a Spanish war veteran and is admirably qualified for the post.

PILES OF ICE LEFT IN VILLAGE STREETS

The residents of Smith's Ferry, living south of the railroad tracks, are in terrible shape on account of the ice, which covers the streets, outhouses and fences. The thickest and heaviest of the gorge ice seems to have been left in the village and every man there is industriously working to get the main street in shape for travel in order that coal may be brought to a number of the houses where families are in actual need of it.

The milkmen and grocers who deliver goods are compelled to tie their horses on the outskirts of the town and carefully pick their way over the broken mass of limbs, driftwood and piled up ice.

The oldest residents of Smith's Ferry have never seen the conditions such as they are at present, in their memory. The ice will remain for many days unless an exceptionally warm spell of weather sets in. The main street, it is thought, will be partly cleared by tonight.

GOES TO A NEW FIELD

Alex. P. Myler, the Ben Hur Worker, To Take Another District.

The large circle of acquaintances of Alex. P. Myler in the district which he has represented for the Tribe of Ben Hur, will be painfully surprised to hear of his severing his connection with that order. Mr. Myler has done much to carry on the lodge work and has succeeded in building up all of the courts in his jurisdiction to a top-notch membership.

Mr. Myler will leave about the first of February for his new station at Columbus, and will work in the interest of the Protected Home Circle, with which he was formerly connected.

Mr. Myler's new district is composed of the counties of Champaign, Union, Clark, Greene, Clinton, Fayette, Madison, Franklin and Delaware, known as District No. 4. Mr. Myler will very likely be succeeded in Ben Hur work by C. W. Hall, of East Liverpool.

BEN HUR INSTALLATION

New Officers of the Calcutta Lodge to Take Their Seats Friday Evening.

At the home of Dr. J. J. Fitzsimmons at Calcutta on Friday evening the new officers of the lodge of Ben Hur, recently instituted, will be installed into the respective offices. After the installation a social and banquet will take place.

The new officers to be installed are: President, E. M. Gonzales; vice president, W. B. Buzzard; secretary, P. B. Myler; treasurer, Dr. J. J. Fitzsimmons; accountant, J. C. Ainsley; chaplain, W. H. Smith; guardian, J. L. Lambright; guide, C. Vaughn; companion, J. S. Myler; watchman, H.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH

When Sandow poses and the muscles ridge his back and knot his arms, we think we have before us the very secret of strength in those magnificent muscles. But we haven't. Starve Sandow, or what is practically the same thing, let him be dyspeptic, and his muscle would soon fail. Strength is made from food properly digested and assimilated, and no man is stronger than his stomach, because when the stomach is diseased digestion and assimilation are imperfect.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food so that the body is nourished into perfect health and strength.

"I had what my physician called indigestion. He gave me medicine for the trouble but it did me no good," writes Mr. W. H. Wells, of Willard, N. C. "I wrote to Dr. Pierce and stated my case. He sent me a descriptive list and by his advice, I carried out these best I could, bought six bottles of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and commenced taking it. A few days later I noticed a great change. I felt like a new man. Before I began the use of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I suffered greatly with pain in stomach, my nerves seemed all 'run-down,' I was very thin in flesh, but now can eat heartily and sleep good at night."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send twenty-one one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or thirty-one stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally and acts from the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

THOUGHT MINE SAFE

Owners of Harwick Workings Had Provided Modern Equipment.

LOCATED BY ENGINEER TAYLOR

Regular Inspections Have Disclosed The Presence of Small Quantities of Gas But Inspectors Apprehended No Danger—Is Owned in Cleveland.

Pittsburg, Jan. 26.—The Harwick mine of the Allegheny Coal company was the most complete in the Freeport district. The mine was located by Selwyn M. Taylor, the mining engineer of Pittsburg, and all plans for the underground work and power equipment were designed by him. The company was organized about three years ago by Cleveland capitalists, when 6,000 acres of coal lands were purchased near Cheswick. It has a capacity of about 500 tons per day and employs over 200 men.

The coal is reached by a shaft 1214 feet, which is sunk perpendicularly a distance of 224 feet. About 100 feet of this shaft is below the level of the Allegheny river. The two Freeport veins meet here.

Each of the entries is about 1,800 feet in length, and these and the numerous rooms are supplied with air and kept drained of gas by powerful fans driven by compressed air. Entrance to the mine is made by means of large cages, which are hoisted by two engines. Directly above the shaft is the tippie, which is said to be one of the finest ever built. It is made entirely of steel. No electricity was employed about the property.

The mine was opened in May, 1902, and has been operating continuously ever since. Several regular investigations by the mine inspectors have shown the presence of small quantities of gas, but never to a dangerous extent. No explosions of any consequence have occurred there.

The power plant is located in a valley, being clustered about the shaft, while opposite, and removed some distance, is Harwick village, where the miners live. On one side of the shaft site are the engine and boiler houses, while on the other is the lamp room. None of these structures was damaged, with the exception of the air compressor building.

The force of the explosion also wrecked the steel tippie and weigh house. The hoisting apparatus was damaged, but by cutting through the wall of the engine house a temporary rope was rigged up which connected with a crane. By means of this the cages containing rescuers were lowered.

Bill to Relieve Railroads From Irksome Responsibility.

Columbus, O., Jan. 26.—The abolition of the fellow servant provision is asked by Senator Smith of Tuscarawas county in a bill introduced in the senate. The measure is intended to annul the statutes holding railroads liable for all damages done in consequence of any negligence of engineers or other employees.

The senate has passed the Hack bill permitting chiefs of police in cities of over 5,000 inhabitants to collect $100 annually in uncollectible costs when the claim is granted by the county commissioner.

"ALL RUN DOWN"—NERVOUS AND HAD DYSPEPSIA.

S. J. Bunkin's Case Like Thousands of Other Sufferers.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 26, 1903.—"Two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound convinced me that I had at last discovered a remedy that proved a permanent cure for a run-down system, nervousness, liver complaints and dyspepsia, from which I suffered untold agony for years."

"Other so-called cures which I spent small fortunes on proved worthless and seemed only to make my complication all the more severe. For years I suffered from a general run-down system that was gradually drawing me nearer, day by day, to my last resting place."

"I was losing weight rapidly, could eat but very little—after which I suffered intensely. In less than a year I was reduced almost to a skeleton. After trying several prominent physicians, all of whom told me that my case was puzzling, without in the least benefiting my condition, I gave up in despair, believing my disease incurable. I had taken any quantity of medicines advertised, but they were no good."

"Paine's Celery Compound was recommended to me by an old Civil War veteran whom I met in a public park. His praise of the infallible remedy was so great I decided to give it a trial.

"I purchased two bottles, and before I had finished taking it a change for the better in my condition made its appearance. I continued to take the medicine and my health of former years came back rapidly. I gained weight, became active and vigorous, and after taking five bottles of the great tonic I was entirely cured."

"Today I weigh more than ever before in my life, my nerves have gained their normal condition, and my health in general is perfect. I give praise to nothing but Paine's Celery Compound, and would not be without this great remedy."—S. J. BUNKIN, 332 Mantion St.

So many things to do in California

There are so many things to do in California that visitors often waste a great deal of time trying to decide which to do first.

But there is one way to see the state that meets with the unqualified approval of every visitor, and that is by tally-ho coach.

Practically every town in Southern California which caters to tourists has one or more tally-ho which leave the principal hotels every morning for a twenty-mile spin through the orange groves. If you are going to California this winter will you not give me an opportunity of telling you why your ticket should read via the Kock Island System.

EMINENT DOCTORS PRAISE MUCU-TONE

NOW can we measure the importance to mankind of the discovery of an absolute cure for catarrh, that dreaded malady which attacks the mucous membrane or delicate underlining of the skin of the body.

The disease which for years has discouraged scientists—the disease which numbers 12,000,000 men and women sufferers in the United States alone.

The heads of great hospitals, where scores of catarrhal patients are treated each year, are perhaps in the best position to appreciate the value of a remedy, which working along scientific, intelligent lines, brings permanent cure to even the chronic sufferer.

The staff of physicians of the Suffolk Hospital and Dispensary in Boston, where in less than two years 83,271 patients have registered, do not hesitate to pronounce Rexall Mucu-Tone the best cure for catarrh they have ever used.

Albert C. Smith is the president and treasurer and the Hon. Chas. J. Noyes and the Hon. James Stevens are vice-presidents. The secretary is F. H. Wallace, M. D., and the superintendent is W. C. Clarke, M. D.

President Smith's letter should be read by every catarrh sufferer. We print it in full:

"It gives me great satisfaction to report to you that after a most careful trial of Rexall Mucu-Tone, the corps of physicians of our institution agree that this compound is the best cure for catarrh which we have ever used."

"In all catarrhal diseases of the bronchial and nasal passages; catarrh of the stomach, intestines, kidneys and bladder; catarrhal troubles of the generative organs of women, etc., Mucu-Tone has effected remarkable permanent cures."

"Mucu-Tone seems to act immediately upon the blood and mucous membranes, strengthens their cells and healing the inflammation."

"We shall continue to use this valuable preparation, for nothing can compare with it in the treatment of catarrh and its kindred troubles."

"Yours very truly,"

A. C. SMITH, President."

Certainly such testimony as this must convince even the most skeptical—certainly it will justify us in requesting catarrh sufferers to give Rexall Mucu-Tone a trial; to give it a chance to speak for itself. If you will do this we know you will continue taking it until cured.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is unlike all other catarrh remedies. It works through the bloodvessels, going direct to the affected part whether in head, throat, stomach, kidneys or bladder; driving out the poisons and healing all inflammations of the mucous membranes. From the very first dose its strengthening influence will be felt and from four to six bottles will effect a complete cure of the worst cases. Your money back if not more than satisfied.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Mahoning county grand jury returned 39 indictments.

Hopedale, Jefferson county, is to have an up-to-date opera house.

The recently burned East Palestine depot will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

Edward Hawthorne, a miner, was crushed to death by a car in the Robeyville mine in Jefferson county.

Bert Young, of New Waterford, was a victim of a coasting accident. His right leg was broken above the knee.

Farmers captured an Italian who had been threatening to burn barns in Beaver township, Mahoning county, and lodged him in jail.

Al Kinsey, assistant engineer of the Warren Electric Light & Power company, was drowned in the Mahoning river during the high water.

M. C. Carmichael, a mail carrier at Wellsburg, fell on the ice, striking the back of his head with such force that the concussion, strange as it may seem, caused a blackening of both his eyes. He was unconscious for some time and his condition is serious.

GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over 35 years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." EAST END FREE DELIVERY FOR THE EAST END

The Service Will Be Established February 1 With George A. Smith as Carrier.

Postmaster W. H. Surles has received word from the postoffice department at Washington that free delivery will be established in the East End February 1. The postmaster is authorized to employ one additional carrier to be assigned to Station A and serve all residents of that section who have complied with the requirements regarding good sidewalks, street lights, house numbers and names of streets posted at intersections.

The inspector recommended that the occupants of the houses in Edgewood addition opposite the free delivery limit be notified to erect boxes on the street at the foot of the steps leading to their residences, and that if this is done the carrier will be instructed to deposit their mail in said boxes, but that an additional carrier cannot be granted for this addition at this time.

The postmaster is also authorized to expend the sum of $150 per annum for horse hire in the free delivery service for the use of Collector Henry Bevington, who has been furnishing horse and cart at his own expense in making the daily collections.

Postmaster Surles will recommend that Substitute Carrier George A. Smith, of the East End, be made the regular East End carrier, working from the East End postoffice. Mr. Smith is a Spanish war veteran and is admirably qualified for the post.

The residents of Smith's Ferry, living south of the railroad tracks, are in terrible shape on account of the ice, which covers the streets, outhouses and fences. The thickest and heaviest of the gorge ice seems to have been left in the village and every man there is industriously working to get the main street in shape for travel in order that coal may be brought to a number of the houses where families are in actual need of it.

The milkmen and grocers who deliver goods are compelled to tie their horses on the outskirts of the town and carefully pick their way over the broken mass of limbs, driftwood and piled up ice.

The oldest residents of Smith's Ferry have never seen the conditions such as they are at present, in their memory. The ice will remain for many days unless an exceptionally warm spell of weather sets in. The main street, it is thought, will be partly cleared by tonight.

GOES TO A NEW FIELD

Alex. P. Myler, the Ben Hur Worker, To Take Another District.

The large circle of acquaintances of Alex. P. Myler in the district which he has represented for the Tribe of Ben Hur, will be painfully surprised to hear of his severing his connection with that order. Mr. Myler has done much to carry on the lodge work and has succeeded in building up all of the courts in his jurisdiction to a top-notch membership.

Mr. Myler will leave about the first of February for his new station at Columbus, and will work in the interest of the Protected Home Circle, with which he was formerly connected.

Mr. Myler's new district is composed of the counties of Champaign, Union, Clark, Greene, Clinton, Fayette, Madison, Franklin and Delaware, known as District No. 4. Mr. Myler will very likely be succeeded in Ben Hur work by C. W. Hall, of East Liverpool.

BEN HUR INSTALLATION

New Officers of the Calcutta Lodge to Take Their Seats Friday Evening.

At the home of Dr. J. J. Fitzsimmons at Calcutta on Friday evening the new officers of the lodge of Ben Hur, recently instituted, will be installed into the respective offices. Many members of the order from East Liverpool and the East End will be in attendance and the crowd that will be present will be largely increased if the snow remains on the ground. After the installation a social and banquet will take place.

The new officers to be installed are: President, E. M. Gonzales; vice president, W. B. Buzzard; secretary, P. B. Myler; treasurer, Dr. J. J. Fitzsimmons; accountant, J. C. Ainsley; chaplain, W. H. Smith; guardian, J. L. Lambright; guide, C. Vaughn; companion, J. S. Myler; watchman, H.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH

When Sandow poses and the muscles ridge his back and knot his arms, we think we have before us the very secret of strength in those magnificent muscles. But we haven't. Starve Sandow, or what is practically the same thing, let him be dyspeptic, and his muscles would soon fail. Strength is made from food properly digested and assimilated, and no man is stronger than his stomach, because when the stomach is diseased digestion and assimilation are imperfect.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food so that the body is nourished into perfect health and strength.

"I had what my physician called indigestion. He gave me medicine for the trouble but it did me no good," writes Mr. W. H. Wells, of Willard, N. C. "I wrote to Dr. Pierce and stated my case. He sent me a descriptive list and by his advice, I carried out these as best I could, bought six bottles of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and commenced taking it. A few days later I noticed a great change. Felt like a new man. Before I began the use of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I suffered greatly with pain in stomach, my nerves seemed all 'run-down,' I was very thin in flesh, but now can eat heartily and sleep good at night."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send twenty-one one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or thirty-one stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Funeral of Miss Finney.

The funeral of Miss Lizzie Finney was held from the family residence at 1:30 o'clock today. Rev. N. M. Crowe, of the Second Presbyterian church, preached the funeral sermon, after which the remains were taken to Riverside cemetery for interment. The order of which Miss Finney had been a member was to have taken charge of the funeral, but on account of the critical condition of Miss Carrie Finney the ceremonies in connection with the funeral were carried on with quietness and simplicity.

A bright baby girl has come to the home of Henry Mullen, residing near the Andrews dairy farm.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THOUGHT MINE SAFE

Owners of Harwick Workings Had Provided Modern Equipment.

LOCATED BY ENGINEER TAYLOR

Regular Inspections Have Disclosed The Presence of Small Quantities of Gas But Inspectors Apprehended No Danger—Is Owned in Cleveland.

Pittsburg, Jan. 26.—The Harwick mine of the Allegheny Coal company was the most complete in the Freeport district. The mine was located by Selwyn M. Taylor, the mining engineer of Pittsburg, and all plans for the underground work and power equipment were designed by him. The company was organized about three years ago by Cleveland capitalists, when 6,000 acres of coal lands were purchased near Cheswick. It has a capacity of about 500 tons per day and employs over 200 men.

The coal is reached by a shaft 12x14 feet, which is sunk perpendicularly a distance of 224 feet. About 100 feet of this shaft is below the level of the Allegheny river. The two Freeport veins meet here.

Each of the entries is about 1,800 feet in length, and these and the numerous rooms are supplied with air and kept drained of gas by powerful fans driven by compressed air. Entrance to the mine is made by means of large cages, which are hoisted by two engines. Directly above the shaft is the tippie, which is said to be one of the finest ever built. It is made entirely of steel. No electricity was employed about the property.

The mine was opened in May, 1902, and has been operating continuously ever since. Several regular investigations by the mine inspectors have shown the presence of small quantities of gas, but never to a dangerous extent. No explosions of any consequence have occurred there.

The power plant is located in a valley, being clustered about the shaft, while opposite, and removed some distance, is Harwick village, where the miners live. On one side of the shaft site are the engine and boiler houses, while on the other is the lamp room. None of these structures was damaged, with the exception of the air compressor building.

The force of the explosion also wrecked the steel tippie and weigh house. The hoisting apparatus was damaged, but by cutting through the wall of the engine house a temporary rope was rigged up which connected with a crane. By means of this the cages containing rescuers were lowered.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1904.

The Crisis, which professes to have a holy horror of fakes, sprung the most ridiculous fake of the season last week when it intimated in glaring headlines that Chief of Police John W. Wyman was about to resign and not fight the quo warranto proceedings brought against him in the supreme court. A day or two later, after everybody had laughed at the absurd tale, which originated in the fertile brain of the Crisis reporter and nowhere else, that paper pronounced its own story "fiction." Now it arrives at the sage conclusion that "the filing of Wyman's answer at once sets at rest all the (Crisis) stories regarding resignation, growing out of idle speculation." Now why not be as frank concerning a fake and a lie which the Crisis has been publishing for days? That "largest circulation" fake of the Crisis is the worst yet. Does anybody with sense enough to keep out of the way of the trolley cars or go in out of the wet believe that the Crisis has a paid circulation greater than the News Review's 3,309? Does anybody believe it has half the number? Certainly the Crisis does not believe it, for it knows better. Yet, acting on the principle that a lie well stuck to is as good as the truth, it tries to fool the people, at the same time prating about "honest" journalism. Honest, forsooth! Honesty and the Crisis have so long been strangers that they would be sure to fall out if they should meet. Until the Crisis dares to publish figures, the less it says about circulation the less ridiculous it makes itself. The ass in the lion's skin deceived nobody when it lifted up its voice.

The mayor, building commissioner, building inspector and chief of fire department of Chicago, along with the theater proprietor and other officials to await the action of the grand jury in connection with the Iroquois theatre horror. That there was criminal carelessness somewhere is plainly evident. When it is fixed and the careless ones punished, it will be a useful lesson to those holding similar posts of responsibility in other cities.

It may be true, as the Memphis Commercial Appeal insists, that the cost of running the government is twice the sum required in the days of Grover, but it is emphatically true that the business of the country is far more than fourfold what it was in the days of Grover, its demands greater, its finances on a sound basis, and prosperity where then were idle mills and idle men.

The Crisis cartoon last evening would have been excellent in every respect but for the fact that the artist got the labels misplaced. Strange that the Crisis can never attempt good work without bungling it before it is completed.

The News Review is glad at all times to furnish proof that it has the paid circulation it claims. The other newspapers of the city would be thrown into consternation if anybody should ask to see their circulation books.

The Philadelphia Times is inclined to think that if Mr. Bryan were thrown out by the Democratic party there might be some show for it to succeed. But in throwing Mr. Bryan out of the party what would be left of it?

OBITUARY

Rev. Sanford Fleming.
Word was received in the city last night of the death of Rev. Sanford Fleming at his home in Sheraden, Pa. The three daughters of the family, aged 18, 12 and 8 years, are ill with typhoid fever, the disease of which the father died, and the youngest is not expected to live. Mr. Fleming was about 50 years of age. He will be remembered by a large number of the residents of this city. He was a brother of A. H. Fleming, who formerly conducted a drug store here. He married Miss Carrie Shepherd, formerly a teacher in the public schools of this city and a sister of Mrs. John A. George and Mrs. James Hargreaves of this city. Mrs. Sarah Shepherd, the mother of Mr. Fleming, is also residing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George. The remains will be taken to Fairmount this evening. Owing to the very serious illness of the youngest daughter, Mrs. Fleming will be unable to attend the funeral. Mrs. George and Mrs. Hargreaves will leave today for Sheraden, where they will remain with their sister.

Dr. Charles E. White.
Salem, January 26.—Dr. Charles E. White, who died at Salem Saturday, was born in 1873. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White and a graduate of the Salem high school and of the Homeopathic Medical college in Cleveland. He had practiced medicine in that city since 1892, and was district physician of the city. The funeral was held here yesterday.

HOW HYOMEI HELPS THE HEALTH

Kills the Germs of Grip, Catarrh and Colds, "Costs Nothing if It Fails," Says Will Reed.

Now that Hyomei can be obtained in nearly every town and city in the country, it is possible to buy from druggists a health giving climate, to be carried in the purse or pocket. By breathing it a few minutes four times a day you can soon cure grip, coughs, colds and even the worst and most chronic cases of catarrh.

Will Reed has seen so many remarkable cures made by the Hyomei treatment, that he sells it with the positive agreement to return the money if it fails to cure.

A complete outfit costs but $1, and consists of the pocket inhaler, medicine dropper and sufficient Hyomei to last several weeks.

It effects a cure in the worst catarrhal troubles and if breathed at the commencement of a cold or the grip, will check it quickly and prevent sickness. Extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

When breathing through the inhaler, the germ-killing and health-giving Hyomei goes to the most remote cells of the throat and lungs, killing all the catarrhal germs, soothing the irritated mucous membrane and vitalizing the blood with ozone.

At this season of the year, every one should have a Hyomei outfit to prevent and cure catarrhal troubles, and ward off attacks of grip, pneumonia and similar germ diseases.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Walter B. Hill visited Pittsburg yesterday.

Mrs. P. Allison is ill at her home on Sixth street.

Roy Elkton has returned from a visit to Kensington.

Physical Director E. J. State, of the Y. M. C. A., is ill of grip.

Miss Bessie Heverly, of Sixth street, is confined to her home, threatened with fever.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cross, of Thompson avenue, left today for a visit to Meigs county.

James C. Boulton, of Cleveland, spent a few days in this city last week on business. He returned home today.

Miss Anna Lee has returned to her home in this city after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. D. D. Downing, at New London.

James Skidmore, who has been visiting his parents in this city for a week, left this morning for Alliance, where he is employed.

Mrs. Fred Miller has returned from McKeesport, Pa., where she was called on account of the serious illness of her mother, who is again improving. Blair Allison, residing near Elkton, well known in this city, who was so badly injured recently that one of his fingers had to be amputated, is improving.

William Gould, who has been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever at his rooms on Sixth street for the past two months, is nearly well, and yesterday was able to dispense with the services of a nurse. The young man's mother, who has been at his bedside all through the illness, left yesterday for her home at East Palestine.

Miss Nora Morrison, who has been in Europe for the past year, is visiting in this city. The lady is a niece of George L. and Thomas L. Smith and M. M. Huston. She has been studying languages during her European sojourn and will again take up her work as an instructor in one of the western colleges. Miss Morrison will visit at Mineral City before going west.

Word from Pittsburg states that Louis P. Craig is on the road to recovery. Mr. Craig, well known in this city, is a commission merchant of Pittsburg and brother-in-law of John W. Hobmann, of East Liverpool. While at the national meeting of the commission merchants of the United States he took a pleasure trip through the Mammoth Cave with a large party. But for the bravery of Senator Muehlbauer Craig and others would no doubt have been lost. Muehlbauer is still confined to his home. His heroic work in the icy waters gave him a severe cold, almost leading to pneumonia.

TREASURES IN BLUE AND WHITE

The Rare Old Porcelain Is Always Very Much In Fashion.

COLLECTING QUAINT PIECES

Once More Becoming the Popular Fad. Some Treasures of the Potters' Art That Are Greatly Prized By Connoisseurs.

There is an ever growing fancy, particularly in the feminine world, for the collection of quaint and curious pieces of chinaware of both old and modern manufacture. One does not have to be a collector of porcelain in the technical acceptance of the term to enjoy the search after and possession of a rare and beautiful bit of ceramic art, says the Washington Star. But, of course, to the connoisseur belong the exquisite joy of coming upon a curious or long sought "find."

Collectors of old china, like collectors of many other things, are often misunderstood by those who are not initiated into the mysteries of the subject. A lover of one artistic cult does not often appreciate the enthusiasm of a savant in another. One would imagine that a fellow feeling would make the artistic world akin, but a patron of pictorial art who will give a fortune for a noted canvas laughs to scorn a Hollander who leaves a tulip bulb to his heirs as a fortune.

I suppose this is the spirit of the true collector, but thrice blessed are they who combine a love of nature with a love of art. Though the potter's art has been termed humble, it is through his wonderful handiwork that we have had bequeathed to us almost perfect memorials of the ages that are gone by. Great empires have crumbled and fallen, but the imperishable little pieces of pottery are left to mark the era of their creation. Not only do these fragile examples remain intact, but the wheel upon which modern pottery is fashioned is nearly identical with that used by Egyptian workers in the time of Pharaoh.

For centuries the art of pottery was lost to Europeans, and the Chinese alone held this important secret. These Orientals persistently refused to divulge the knowledge of its manufacture, and would declare that their chinaware was made of eggshells and sand buried a century underground before being used. There is a tragic story in this connection. A certain potter named Pauza was ordered to make a porcelain vase rapidly returning to popperation, not being able to comply with the royal demand, he leaped into the fiery furnace where the composition was baking. Immediately the clay absorbed his blood, became plastic and clear, and his sons by this means were enabled to carry out the emperor's command.

Chinese ming, cloisonne, nankin and the semi-eggshell varieties of chinaware have always been prized, and now comes the news that all Chinese porcelains are rapidly returning to popular favor. They have consequently enormously increased in value. In the eighteenth century court ladies were satirized as caring more for their Chinese monsters than for their husbands, and in this age some of us have had trying times in living up to the treasured heirloom of a blue teapot. Many pieces of Chinese porcelain carry no mark, being made for imperial use alone, and when there are distinctive signs many of these are forged. Still, beautiful old pieces of Chinese porcelain carry no mark, easily procured. Delft china is often mistaken for the former ware, which is somewhat resembles. Old delft, which, by the way, is a generic term applied to common crockery, wherever made, is marked with the initials of the maker's name, A. Killee.

The last cry in the decorative world is for a Chinese room where porcelain decorated in monochrome is a medium for artistic furnishings. With money, patience and an empty room, one is equipped with the essentials for bringing an elusive atmosphere of exquisite mystery and age into an otherwise commonplace apartment. Ceramic "globe scrapings" are prohibited except to millionaires, while beautiful and the mode, are within the reach of all. The walls of the Chinese room should be of fumed oak or inlaid with panels of silk embroideries and a frieze painted in Chinese style. If reduced to their simplest element, they should be hung with cotton grepe. Around the walls are placed brackets holding specimens of blue and white pottery, while every niche and corner is brilliant with glossy jars and beakers of purest cobalt and white. Chinese Chippendale cabinets, although sneered at as "eccentricities," and the "worst piece" and "aberration" of Chippendale's genius, will look exceedingly well in the room. A blue and white woven rug is one's first idea for the floor covering, but it would simply nullify, if one may use the term, the glowing coolness of the room. The carpet which brings out the tone of the apartment is a rich Persian rug, which adds, with Oriental draperies at the windows, a last sonorous note to the beautiful theme.

Lowestoft is a favorite old china which shows the Chinese influence, though the English touch is there. The porcelain body of this ware is inferior to Chelsea, Worcester or Derby, but, with its graceful flower and pagoda designs, it is very attractive. In dainty pieces the groundwork is blue with ribbons threading in and out among the blossoms in a wavy line never to be confounded with the Dresden bowknot. As the Lowestoft factory was severely utilitarian and tea ware formed a large percentage of its output, we have cups, saucers and sugar bowls in profusion. If you peep into an Oriental looking teacup of this ware you will be surprised to see an English rose, which seems to say, "I am not Chinese, but Lowestoft, as you see by this sign of the rose."

Dresden is a delightful and royal china, and, although we see many specimens of this ware, there are only four places in the world where one may be absolutely sure of procuring a genuine piece. These are the salesrooms connected with the factory, the royal porcelain depots in Dresden and Leipzig, and a little shop, also in Dresden, which is permitted to keep defective specimens. The distinguishing mark of Dresden is two crossed swords in blue.

Perhaps the most sought after chinas of the day are Chelsea and Worcester. The first named china factory was founded by the great Frenchman, M. Sprimont, in the eighteenth century. The choicest Chelsea vases are of immense value not alone for their rarity, but for the workmanship in modeling and decoration. These works have long since disappeared, but hundreds of beautiful figures still exist as lovely in glaze and color as when they came fresh from the kiln. Chelsea china later took on the added name of Derby from the town of its manufacture. The mark is a combination of an anchor and the letter D.

"Royal" was bestowed upon Worcester when Queen Charlotte visited that factory with King George III and the china is being produced still in beautiful designs. Flowers and exotic birds are the patterns most used on Worcester. Pieces of genuine Worcester have four intertwined W's with a crown above. Royal Worcester was manufactured before 1788; since that time it is only Worcester.

Crown Derby, Sevres, Minton and the like are wares to be peddled only to princesses of the blood royal and American dollar queens.

Golfers will be interested in a collection of delft tiles depicting the history of golf. It is still a disputed point as to whether the game of golf had its cradle in Scotland or in the low countries. We do know that the great Dutch landscape painters took delight in depicting all kinds of sport, and as golf was played in that country on the ice, there are lovely tiles representing the different points of the game. The golfer who can afford the luxury of a fireplace tiled with pictures of golfers in all attitudes and poses is indeed fortunate. Our American pottery, though of recent origin, is very beautiful, and in no country has chinaware reached such excellence without the aid of financial encouragement. We have Belec, equal to the Irish ancient porcelain of that name, made in Trenton, N. J., but the most distinctive American potteries are the Rookwood and the Faience. The terms porcelain and china are confusing, although really relative. The latter is "shopping" English, and when one becomes a collector he forewears "china" and uses the word "porcelain." It is more artistic and esthetic.

The Crisis, which professes to have a holy horror of fakes, sprung the most ridiculous fake of the season last week when it intimated in glaring headlines that Chief of Police John W. Wyman was about to resign and not fight the quo warranto proceedings brought against him in the supreme court. A day or two later, after everybody had laughed at the absurd tale, which originated in the fertile brain of the Crisis reporter and nowhere else, that paper pronounced its own story "fiction." Now it arrives at the sage conclusion that "the filing of Wyman's answer at once sets at rest all the (Crisis) stories regarding resignation, growing out of idle speculation." Now why not be as frank concerning a fake and a lie which the Crisis has been publishing for days? That "largest circulation" fake of the Crisis is the worst yet. Does anybody with sense enough to keep out of the way of the trolley cars or go in out of the wet believe that the Crisis has a paid circulation greater than the News Review's 3,309? Does anybody believe it has half the number? Certainly the Crisis does not believe it, for it knows better. Yet, acting on the principle that a lie well stuck to is as good as the truth, it tries to fool the people, at the same time prating about "honest" journalism. Honest, forsooth! Honesty and the Crisis have so long been strangers that they would be sure to fall out if they should meet. Until the Crisis dares to publish figures, the less it says about circulation the less ridiculous it makes itself. The ass in the lion's skin deceived nobody when it lifted up its voice.

The mayor, building commissioner, building inspector and chief of fire department of Chicago, along with the theater proprietor and other officials to await the action of the grand jury in connection with the Iroquois theatre horror. That there was criminal carelessness somewhere is plainly evident. When it is fixed and the careless ones punished, it will be a useful lesson to those holding similar posts of responsibility in other cities.

It may be true, as the Memphis Commercial Appeal insists, that the cost of running the government is twice the sum required in the days of Grover, but it is emphatically true that the business of the country is far more than fourfold what it was in the days of Grover, its demands greater, its finances on a sound basis, and prosperity where then were idle mills and idle men.

The Crisis cartoon last evening would have been excellent in every respect but for the fact that the artist got the labels misplaced. Strange that the Crisis can never attempt good work without bungling it before it is completed.

The News Review is glad at all times to furnish proof that it has the paid circulation it claims. The other newspapers of the city would be thrown into consternation if anybody should ask to see their circulation books.

The Philadelphia Times is inclined to think that if Mr. Bryan were thrown out by the Democratic party there might be some show for it to succeed. But in throwing Mr. Bryan out of the party what would be left of it?

The walls of the Chinese room should be of fumed oak or inlaid with panels of silk embroideries and a freeze painted in Chinese style. If reduced to their simplest element, they should be hung with cotton crepe. Around the walls are placed brackets holding specimens of blue and white pottery, while every niche and corner is brilliant with glossy jars and beakers of purest cobalt and white. Chinese Chippendale cabinets, although sneered at as "eccentricities," and the "worst piece" and "aberration" of Chippendale's genius, will look exceedingly well in the room. A blue and white woven rug is one's first idea for the floor covering, but it would simply nullify, if one may use the term, the glowing coolness of the room. The carpet which brings out the tone of the apartment is a rich Persian rug, which adds, with Oriental draperies at the windows, a last sonorous note to the beautiful theme.

Lowestoft is a favorite old china which shows the Chinese influence, though the English touch is there. The porcelain body of this ware is inferior to Chelsea, Worcester or Derby, but, with its graceful flower and pagoda designs, it is very attractive. In dainty pieces the groundwork is blue with ribbons threading in and out among the blossoms in a wavy line never to be confounded with the Dresden bowknot. As the Lowestoft factory was severely utilitarian and tea ware formed a large percentage of its output, we have cups, saucers and sugar bowls in profusion. If you peep into an Oriental looking leacup of this ware you will be surprised to see an English rose, which seems to say, "I am not Chinese, but Lowestoft, as you see by this sign of the rose."

Dresden is a delightful and royal china, and, although we see many specimens of this ware, there are only four places in the world where one may be absolutely sure of procuring a genuine piece. These are the salesrooms connected with the factory, the royal porcelain depots in Dresden and Leipzig, and a little shop, also in Dresden, which is permitted to keep defective specimens. The distinguishing mark of Dresden is two crossed swords in blue.

Perhaps the most sought after chinas of the day are Chelsea and Worcester. The first named china factory was founded by the great Frenchman, M. Sprimont, in the eighteenth century. The choicest Chelsea vases are of immense value not alone for their rarity, but for the workmanship in modeling and decoration. These works have long since disappeared, but hundreds of beautiful figures still exist as lovely in glaze and color as when they came fresh from the kiln. Chelsea china later took on the added name of Derby from the town of its manufacture. The mark is a combination of an anchor and the letter D.

"Royal" was bestowed upon Worcester when Queen Charlotte visited that factory with King George III and the china is being produced still in beautiful designs. Flowers and exotic birds are the patterns most used on Worcester. Pieces of genuine Worcester have four intertwined W's with a crown above. Royal Worcester was manufactured before 1788; since that time it is only Worcester.

Crown Derby, Sevres, Minton and the like are wares to be peddled only to princesses of the blood royal and American dollar queens.

Golfers will be interested in a collection of delft tiles depicting the history of golf. It is still a disputed point as to whether the game of golf had its cradle in Scotland or in the low countries. We do know that the great Dutch landscape painters took delight in depicting all kinds of sport, and as golf was played in that country on the ice, there are lovely tiles representing the different points of the game. The golfer who can afford the luxury of a fireplace tiled with pictures of golfers in all attitudes and poses is indeed fortunate.

Our American pottery, though of recent origin, is very beautiful, and in no country has chinaware reached such excellence without the aid of financial encouragement. We have Belec, equal to the Irish ancient porcelain of that name, made in Trenton, N. J., but the most distinctive American potteries are the Rookwood and the Faience. The terms porcelain and china are confusing, although really relative. The latter is "shopping" English, and when one becomes a collector he forewears "china" and uses the word "porcelain." It is more artistic and esthetic.

FIRE ESCAPES

Will Be Put on All the School Buildings in the City at an Early Date.

Payment of teachers' salaries and a number of private bills formed all the important business transacted at a meeting of the Wellsville board of education last night. The session was exceedingly brief.

Progress was reported by the committee having in charge the work of placing fire escapes on all school buildings in the city. Bids for the construction of these escapes will be opened by the board soon.

After the meeting adjourned a proposition was received from a spring water company to furnish water to the schools at two and one-half cents a gallon. Action will be taken at the next session of the board.

SHORTAGE OF GAS

Steps Being Taken By the Company to Remedy It as Soon as Possible.

A valve has been placed over the break made in the high pressure gas main at Seventh street and the railroad last Friday night. Arrangements are being made to connect the main line with the branch line, so that a supply of gas can be given the factories touched by the branch.

There was a continued shortage of gas in the East End this morning caused by some water still remaining in the regulator and tributary pipes. All the water is expected to be pumped from the pipes by tonight.

ANOTHER LANDSLIDE

At Port Homer Interferes With C. & P. Traffic on the River Division.

Another slide, about as large as that of Saturday morning, occurred on the river division of the C. & P. road near Port Homer, just where the first landslide occurred.

Workmen had about cleared the first slide from the tracks, opening the road, when the second slide occurred. Passengers are being transferred at that point, although the company expects to have the line open by night.

Camden Enters a Denial.

Henry Camden now claims that he did not ask for a conference with the finance committee of council to arrange for a settlement of the claim for damages to his property which resulted by the raising of Liverpool street. The story is told that Solicitor Boyd, with Photographer J. F. Merrill, took a view of the Camden property during the flood of Saturday and that this will be used in court, when the case comes up for hearing. As the case now stands no one can tell when the finance committee of council will meet Mr. Camden, or whether it ever will.

Patriotic School Programs.
"I am a firm believer in patriotism," said Supt. McDonald, of the Wellsville schools today, "and for that reason Patriotic day will be observed in all the schools of Wellsville February 19." Definite programs have not been planned for this event. There will be patriotic recitations in all the school rooms, and in the higher grade rooms.

short talks upon patriotism will be made to the scholars by the teachers and Mr. McDonald. Songs appropriate to the occasion will be a feature of the exercises.

FLOOD GATES

Suggested By the Mayor As a Means of Preventing Damage by High Water.

Mayor Fogo desires council to take precautions against the partial flooding of Wellsville during every high water. It is his idea to have flood gates placed at the mouth of every storm sewer emptying into the Ohio river. It is claimed that with such an improvement to the sewers, it will be impossible for back water from the river flooding the low part of the city.

To ascertain the feasibility of this suggestion, Councilmen Shoub, Blackburn, McDonald and City Engineer Leith compose a committee which will make an investigation and report at the next meeting of council.

Council is a unit in establishing the improvement, provided it can be accomplished successfully.

APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE

Passed By Council With But Very Few Changes—Small Reductions Made.

Council passed the appropriation ordinance last night with but few changes in its original form. Councilman James Bissett was absent, all others voting in favor of the measure.

The ordinance was presented to council last Wednesday night, but later it was referred to the committee on finance. The committee went over the ordinance Friday night and referred it to council again.

From the original ordinance $300 was taken from the appropriation for salary for street commissioner. The amount for legal advertising was cut $125. They were the only amounts deducted from the ordinance.

Suspiciously Low Prices.

Merchants of Wellsville, who claim to have lost money by the closing of the H. O. Phillips grocery, say that a week before the store was closed goods were sold at a remarkably low price. One merchant who lost almost $30 by the "failure" said: "I understand that Mrs. Phillips sold a barrel of sauerkraut for $1, a box of cigars for 15 cents and other goods at similar low prices. While this was going on Phillips was said to have left for Canada, but subsequent developments show that he went to Pittsburgh."

More Money Needed.

President Gerren, of the water works trustees, with City Solicitor Boyd, has been ordered to Pittsburgh to consult with the officials of the Duquesne Construction company, which has charge of the construction of the new pump station. An engineer from Pittsburgh was present at the meeting last night and explained that additional funds may be needed to complete the contract. To find out just what will be needed to complete the contract is the object of the board in sending representatives to Pittsburgh.

Asks for Public Aid.

Because William Dennis left his wife and children without funds some time ago the recent cold weather caused Mrs. Dennis to apply to Mayor Fogo for assistance from the poor fund. Two of the Dennis children are ill with measles. The mother, while doing odd work throughout the city, has been unable to save enough to provide for the necessities of life. Mrs. Dennis claims the last she heard of her husband was when he was in Allegheny. Since then he has not contributed to the support of his family.

Service Board Meeting.

At the meeting of the board of public service today a request was sent to Struthers & Hanna, architects, Pittsburgh, to send a representative to Wellsville for the purpose of making some changes in the plans for the Spring Hill receiving vault. The board also received a plumbers' bond from the Milligan Hardware company.

Five Were Examined.

Five men took the civil service examination prepared by the board of public safety last night for the joint position of fireman and patrolman. Clerk Taylor announced this morning that "another meeting of the board would be held Saturday night, when it may be possible the names of the successful applicant will be known."

Broke His Arm.

Emmet McKenzie, a well known Cleveland & Pittsburgh engineer, fell on the ice Sunday evening, and broke his left arm below the elbow. He will be unable to resume his run for several weeks.

a preliminary investigation relative to the building of a sanitary sewer on Highland avenue. The property owners are willing to pay 60 cents a foot as their part of the cost. Council is expected to take definite action upon receipt of the engineer's report.

No Injunction.

It is not likely that City Solicitor Boyd will grant the prayer of J. C. Elliott and apply for an injunction against the completion of the belt line railroad. The solicitor says this is the greatest improvement Wellsville has had in years.

School House Ready for Use.

All water has been pumped from the basement of the East End school. Sessions will resume in this building tomorrow morning. Fires have been started in the building and it will be thoroughly dried before tomorrow morning.

Church Free From Debt.

The First M. E. church is practically free from debt. This fact was disclosed at a meeting of the official board held last night. A report of the treasurer showed that sufficient funds are available to pay all outstanding obligations.

LANDS ARE LEASED

And a Company Will Soon Make Another Effort to Find Oil.

A part of the farm of Hugh Newell, the farms of William Andrew Johnston, William Severs, George Poths and Albert Mader have been leased by J. A. McDonald, Thomas R. Campbell and Robert H. Grandstaff, who recently purchased a string of tools. The territory that has been secured for operating consists of about 300 acres and considerable more territory is expected to be added in the next few days to the block they now hold.

Drilling will be commenced on one of the above farms as soon as the machinery arrives. The leases are considered good ones, as some of the farms have shown signs of both oil and gas at previous drillings, which were not carried out in completeness.

WATER ON A HOT KILN

Caused an Explosion By Which a Kiln Hand Was Badly Hurt.

James Beaver, a kiln hand at the Black Horse brick yards, met with a bad accident, caused by the blowing up of the brick kiln Monday. The accident happened when the high water was standing about 20 feet from the kiln when a terrific flash of heat and gas knocked him from his feet, badly bruising him about the face and other portions of the body.

Had he been closer to the kiln his death would have been certain. He was removed to his home, where his injuries were dressed. He will recover.

Presbyterian Business Meeting.

The Presbyterians will hold services Friday night in the U. P. chapel and after the sermon a business meeting will be held for the purpose of electing two trustees and two elders. The meeting will be congregational and it is likely that a vote will be taken on the pastor for the church. There will also be preaching services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and on Sunday at 3 o'clock. Rev. J. R. Hosick, of Mill Creek church, will be in charge of the meetings.

Reported Destitute.

The family of Joseph Hoakum, living in lower Chester, are reported to be in a destitute condition on account of the head of the family being badly crippled with rheumatism. The family is a large one and Poor Overseer Allison will visit them for the purpose of inquiring into the case.

Candidates for Collector.

David Cunningham, George H. Johnston and Attorney George D. Ingram are spoken of as desirous to fill the position of tax collector. Attorney Ingram is at present solicitor and feels able if given the position to take care of both offices without any conflicting circumstances.

Orchards Damaged.

Much damage was done to the small orchards in lower Congo by the heavy ice, which found lodgment in the branches and was left after the water receded. The orchards of Watson Johnston and John Bunting were most damaged.

Suit for Medical Fees.

Suit has been entered by Dr. Charles R. Campbell against Frank Starkey, the amount being $25 for professional services rendered. The case is set for hearing in Justice Johnston's court at 9 o'clock, January 30.

THE LAND OF CANAAN

MECCA OF THE WORLD'S FOURTH SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Delegates From All Countries to Gather at Jerusalem—How the Journey Will Be Made From America—Itinerary of the Trip.

What promises to be one of the most notable religious events of recent years is the meeting of the world's fourth Sunday school convention, which is to be held at Jerusalem April 18, 19 and 20, where delegates from all Christian lands will foregather.

From time immemorial Jerusalem has been the Mecca of religious pilgrims, and rightly so, since it has been the seat of religious life and history. To many nations and races has it given the basis of their national faith. It is not to be marveled at, then, that the Sunday school forces of the world turned toward Jerusalem as the place for their next convention. The conception seems large, and the project is indeed one of magnitude, but, rightly considered, it appears to be wholly practicable, and the interest which attaches to the subject is a most natural one.

The Sunday school organizations, of which the world's convention is the highest expression, number over 25,000,000 members. Representatives from these bodies have gathered but three times in the history of the organized Sunday school work—the first time in London in 1889, the second time in St. Louis in 1893 and the third time in London again, in 1898.

It was found that the only practicable way of transporting the delegates to the coming world's convention was through a chartered steamer. Accordingly the Grosser Kurfurst, of the North German Lloyd was engaged by the central executive committee of the world's fourth Sunday school convention, of which Mr. E. K. Warren of Three Oaks, Mich., is chairman, to leave New York March 8, 1904, with a delegation of about 800 members. The steamer makes a cruise of the Mediterranean, returning to America May 18, after having given the delegates a choice of seventeen days in Palestine and five days in Egypt or the reverse.

The foreign delegates, particularly those from Great Britain, are to make their pilgrimage on the Fuerst Bismarck, sailing from Marseilles April 1 and returning April 30, the passengers uniting in the convention in Jerusalem.

In the itinerary of the steamer only three of the seventy-one days allotted to the journey are to be spent in the Jerusalem convention proper, though much preliminary work in the line of conferences, organization, etc., will be done on shipboard en route. After leaving New York the first stop will be at Funchal, Madeira, where a little more than a day will be spent. Gibraltar will be next visited and the sightseeing devoted to the inspection of the British fortress and that part of Spain which can be seen there.

Proceeding then across the end of the Mediterranean, the steamer touches at Algiers, going thence to Malta. Then comes Piræus, with an excursion to Athens, in which three days are allotted. At Athens a Sabbath service will be held on Mars hill. Then comes Constantinople, where likewise three days will be spent, from which point the steamer goes on to Smyrna, where excursions will be run to Ephesus, and thence on to the first Syrian port touched, Beirut. From Beirut those who go overland to Damascus leave the party.

The others, after making a short stop, continue down to Caifa for a second overland excursion or may go direct to Yafa, where they will be conveyed by small boats to land and take rail for Jerusalem. Here two weeks may be spent by those who desire that length of time, during which period the river Jordan, the Dead sea, Hebron and many other historic Biblical points in which the country round about Jerusalem abounds will be visited.

Although by that time the object of the trip will have been fulfilled, the journey will be by no means ended, for before returning the steamer will go to Alexandria, where its passengers will take rail for Cairo, and those who desire may go down the Nile as far as Luxor, Karnak and Thebes. The return voyage is to be made by the way of Naples, from which point Rome and Pompeii are easily reached; thence to Villefranche and back to New York.

The project has aroused the greatest enthusiasm in the Sunday school world, and its fulfillment will mark an epoch in the history of the international convention.

AT THE THEATER

The Phelan Stock company, one of the strongest popular price aggregations that ever played in the local house, presented "The Planter's Wife" to a good sized audience last night. The company is well balanced, and the class of plays selected by its management seem to suit every player to perfection. "The Planter's Wife" is a pretty piece, and gives every member of the cast an opportunity to display his or her talent to a very good advantage. The acrobatic specialty by Ali & Peyser was especially fine, and the audience was delighted. A souvenir matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

Hauling First Load of Merchandise Over Old National Road.

There is still to be seen, running across the mountains from Cumberland, Maryland, through western Pennsylvania and on out into Ohio the remains of what was once the commercial highway of the nation, the old National road. In 1785 occurred a memorable event in connection with the early use of the route of travel in which the National road was afterwards constructed. In that year was brought over the mountains the first wagonload of merchandise ever hauled on that route.

The old pike is now in use for only local purposes in the country through which it runs, but in its glory it was a great and splendid trunk line of traffic, and it is hard to think that so recently as 1785 came lumbering over those rough mountain paths the first wagon loaded with goods. This famous wagon was driven by John Hayden, a young man who had been born in what is now Fayette county, Pennsylvania. His team consisted of four horses, and the load weighed exactly a ton.

For hauling this load of freight Hayden charged $3 a hundredweight. This seems like a large sum, but when it is remembered that out of it was to come the cost of keeping Hayden and his horses for a month it will not seem exorbitant. The trip was made from Hagerstown, Maryland, to the little town of Brownsville, in the Monongahela valley, and back, and it required very nearly a month in which to make the journey and return. The goods hauled by Hayden were ordered by Jacob Bowman, a pioneer settler of prominence at Brownsville, whose descendants are yet among the leading and wealthy families of the Monongahela valley.

This famous wagon trip was the first of a wonderful series making such an overland traffic as is scarcely equalled in our history; but the coming of steam and electricity soon changed the old ways and dissipated their glory.

Bank Officials Wish to Add Ten Years to Cashier Rose's Term.

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Cashier George A. Rose, who is under arrest charged with embezzling $187,000 from the Produce Exchange bank, which closed its doors last Friday, is still locked up in the county jail awaiting developments in the examination of the bank's affairs by the officials of the Cleveland Trust company, which has been appointed receiver for the failed bank.

One of the principal objects in examining the books will be to learn if Rose cannot be charged with a more serious offense than embezzlement, the maximum penalty for which in Ohio is but 10 years' imprisonment. It is hoped to be able to find evidence of forgery, which permits a penalty of double that for embezzlement. The severe punishment is desired for its moral effect on other cases. The officials of the Produce Exchange bank are questioning those closely as to his method of speculation and with whom, and hope through this information to be able to learn whether there is possibility of a complete restitution to depositors of their money.

a preliminary investigation relative to the building of a sanitary sewer on Highland avenue. The property owners are willing to pay 60 cents a foot as their part of the cost. Council is expected to take definite action upon receipt of the engineer's report.

No Injunction.

It is not likely that City Solicitor Boyd will grant the prayer of J. C. Elliott and apply for an injunction against the completion of the belt line railroad. The solicitor says this is the greatest improvement Wellsville has had in years.

School House Ready for Use.

All water has been pumped from the basement of the East End school. Sessions will resume in this building tomorrow morning. Fires have been started in the building and it will be thoroughly dried before tomorrow morning.

Church Free From Debt.

The First M. E. church is practically free from debt. This fact was disclosed at a meeting of the official board held last night. A report of the treasurer showed that sufficient funds are available to pay all outstanding obligations.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Clerk, of Tenth street, a daughter.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. George Apple, of Front street.

Three new members were added to the First M. E. church Sunday.

Revival meetings will begin at the Christian church Sunday night. The season will continue indefinitely.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Quail, of Tenth and Commerce streets, has been brightened by the arrival of a son.

Roy E. Thomas, of Martin's Ferry, has taken a position as chief clerk for Druggist Charles N. Brannan. He arrived in Wellsville yesterday.

Andrew McCormick, arrested Sunday night on a long standing charge, was released by Mayor Fogo today.

The charge against McCormick was modified after Mrs. McCormick consulted with the mayor.

LANDS ARE LEASED

And a Company Will Soon Make Another Effort to Find Oil.

A part of the farm of Hugh Newell, the farms of William Andrew Johnston, William Severs, George Poths and Albert Mader have been leased by J. A. McDonald, Thomas R. Campbell and Robert H. Grandstaff, who recently purchased a string of tools. The territory that has been secured for operating consists of about 300 acres and considerable more territory is expected to be added in the next few days to the block they now hold.

Drilling will be commenced on one of the above farms as soon as the machinery arrives. The leases are considered good ones, as some of the farms have shown signs of both oil and gas at previous drillings, which were not carried out in completeness.

WATER ON A HOT KILN

Caused an Explosion By Which a Kiln Hand Was Badly Hurt.

James Beaver, a kiln hand at the Black Horse brick yards, met with a bad accident, caused by the blowing up of the brick kiln Monday. The accident happened when the high water had got to the heated kiln. Beaver was standing about 20 feet from the kiln when a terrific flash of heat and gas knocked him from his feet, badly bruising him about the face and other portions of the body.

Had he been closer to the kiln his death would have been certain. He was removed to his home, where his injuries were dressed. He will recover.

Presbyterian Business Meeting.

The Presbyterians will hold services Friday night in the U. P. chapel and after the sermon a business meeting will be held for the purpose of electing two trustees and two elders. The meeting will be congregational and it is likely that a vote will be taken on the pastor for the church. There will also be preaching services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and on Sunday at 3 o'clock. Rev. J. R. Hosick, of Mill Creek church, will be in charge of the meetings.

Reported Destitute.

The family of Joseph Hoakum, living in lower Chester, are reported to be in a destitute condition on account of the head of the family being badly crippled with rheumatism. The family is a large one and Poor Overseer Allison will visit them for the purpose of inquiring into the case.

Candidates for Collector.

David Cunningham, George H. Johnston and Attorney George D. Ingram are spoken of as desirous to fill the position of tax collector. Attorney Ingram is at present solicitor and feels able if given the position to take care of both offices without any conflicting circumstances.

Orchards Damaged.

Much damage was done to the small orchards in lower Congo by the heavy ice, which found lodgment in the branches and was left after the water receded. The orchards of Watson Johnston and John Bunting were most damaged.

Suit for Medical Fees.

Suit has been entered by Dr. Charles R. Campbell against Frank Starkey, the amount being $25 for professional services rendered. The case is set for hearing in Justice Johnston's court at 9 o'clock, January 30.

CHESTER NOTES.

Miss Grace Stackhouse, of Irondale, who has been visiting Samuel Jackson, returned home today.

The 9:45 accommodation train this morning was the first one up on the New Cumberland branch since Friday night.

Many cases of typhoid fever are prevalent in town and in the list are two children of B. S. Kelsch, of Third street, and Art Severs.

The sheriff's sale of the property of the Ohio River Clay company at Kenilworth has been postponed until February 2 on account of the impeded railroad travel.

Miss Abigail Rowley entertained a number of her young lady friends in the pleasant pastime of flinch Monday evening. After the games refreshments were partaken of.

THE LAND OF CANAAN

MECCA OF THE WORLD'S FOURTH SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Delegates From All Countries to Gather at Jerusalem—How the Journey Will Be Made From America—Itinerary of the Trip.

What promises to be one of the most notable religious events of recent years is the meeting of the world's fourth Sunday school convention, which is to be held at Jerusalem April 18, 19 and 20, where delegates from all Christian lands will foregather.

From time immemorial Jerusalem has been the Mecca of religious pilgrims, and rightly so, since it has been the seat of religious life and history. To many nations and races has it given the basis of their national faith. It is not to be marveled at, then, that the Sunday school forces of the world turned toward Jerusalem as the place for their next convention. The conception seems large, and the project is indeed one of magnitude, but, rightly considered, it appears to be wholly practicable, and the interest which attaches to the subject is a most natural one.

The Sunday school organizations, of which the world's convention is the highest expression, number over 25,000,000 members. Representatives from these bodies have gathered but three times in the history of the organized Sunday school work—the first time in London in 1880, the second time in St. Louis in 1893 and the third time in London again, in 1898.

It was found that the only practicable way of transporting the delegates to the coming world's convention was through a chartered steamer. Accordingly the Grosser Kurfurst of the North German Lloyd was engaged by the central executive committee of the world's fourth Sunday school convention, of which Mr. E. K. Warren, of Three Oaks, Mich., is chairman, to leave New York March 8, 1904, with a delegation of about 800 members. The steamer makes a cruise of the Mediterranean, returning to America May 18, after having given the delegates a choice of seventeen days in Palestine and five days in Egypt or the reverse.

The foreign delegates, particularly those from Great Britain, are to make their pilgrimage on the Fuerst Bismarck, sailing from Marseilles April 1 and returning April 20, the passengers uniting in the convention in Jerusalem.

In the itinerary of the steamer only three of the seventy-one days allotted to the journey are to be spent in the Jerusalem convention proper, though much preliminary work in the line of conferences, organization, etc., will be done on shipboard en route. After leaving New York the first stop will be at Funchal, Madeira, where a little more than a day will be spent. Gibraltar will be next visited and the sightseeing devoted to the inspection of the British fortress and that part of Spain which can be seen there.

Proceeding then across the end of the Mediterranean, the steamer touches at Algiers, going thence to Malta. Then comes Piræus, with an excursion to Athens, to which three days are allotted. At Athens a Sabbath service will be held on Mars hill. Then comes Constantinople, where likewise three days will be spent, from which point the steamer goes on to Smyrna, where excursions will be run to Ephesus, and thence on to the first Syrian port touched, Beirut. From Beirut those who go overland to Damascus leave the party.

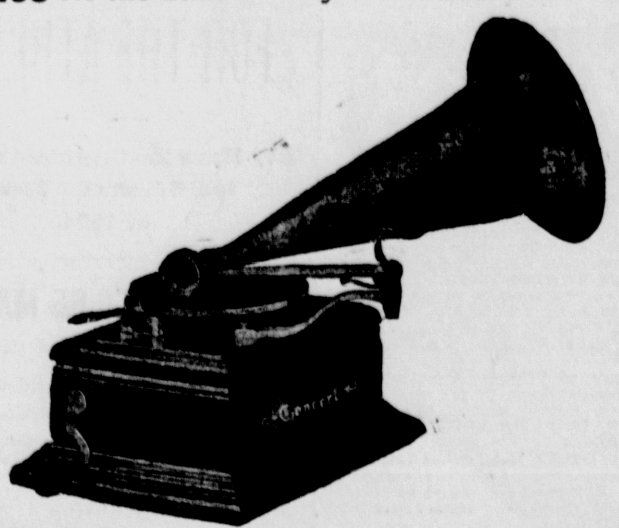

The others, after making a short stop, continue down to Caifa for a second overland excursion or may go direct to Yafa, where they will be conveyed by small boats to land and take rail for Jerusalem. Here two weeks may be spent by those who desire that length of time, during which period the river Jordan, the Dead sea, Hebron and many other historic Biblical points in which the country round about Jerusalem abounds will be visited.

Although by that time the object of the trip will have been fulfilled, the journey will be by no means ended, for before returning the steamer will go to Alexandria, where its passengers will take rail for Cairo, and those who desire may go down the Nile as far as Luxor, Karnak and Thebes. The return voyage is to be made by the way of Naples, from which point Rome and Pompeii are easily reached; thence to Villefranche and back to New York.

The project has aroused the greatest enthusiasm in the Sunday school world, and its fulfillment will mark an epoch in the history of the international convention.

THE SMITH & PHILLIPS MUSIC CO.

AT THE THEATER

The Phelan Stock company, one of the strongest popular price aggregations that ever played in the local house, presented "The Planter's Wife" to a good sized audience last night. The company is well balanced, and the class of plays selected by its management seem to suit every player to perfection. "The Planter's Wife" is a pretty piece, and gives every member of the cast an opportunity to display his or her talent to a very good advantage. The acrobatic specialty by Ali & Peyer was especially fine, and the audience was delighted. A souvenir matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

Hauling First Load of Merchandise Over Old National Road.

(Copyright 1903 by American Press Association.)

There is still to be seen, running across the mountains from Cumberland, Maryland, through western Pennsylvania and on out into Ohio the remains of what was once the commercial highway of the nation, the old National road. In 1785 occurred a memorable event in connection with the early use of the route of travel in which the National road was afterwards constructed. In that year was brought over the mountains the first wagonload of merchandise ever hauled on that route.

The old pike is now in use for only local purposes in the country through which it runs, but in its glory it was a great and splendid trunk line of traffic, and it is hard to think that so recently as 1785 came lumbering over those rough mountain paths the first wagon loaded with goods. This famous wagon was driven by John Hayden, a young man who had been born in what is now Fayette county, Pennsylvania. His team consisted of four horses, and the load weighed exactly a ton.

For hauling this load of freight Hayden charged $2 a hundredweight. This seems like a large sum, but when it is remembered that out of it was to come the cost of keeping Hayden and his horses for a month it will not seem exorbitant. The trip was made from Hagerstown, Maryland, to the little town of Brownsville, in the Monongahela valley, and back, and it required very nearly a month in which to make the journey and return. The goods hauled by Hayden were ordered by Jacob Bowman, a pioneer settler of prominence at Brownsville, whose descendants are yet among the leading and wealthy families of the Monongahela valley.

This famous wagon trip was the first of a wonderful series making such an overland traffic as is scarcely equalled in our history, but the coming of steam and electricity soon changed the old ways and dissipated their glory.

HOPE TO FIND FORGERY.

Bank Officials Wish to Add Ten Years to Cashier Rose's Term.

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—Cashier George A. Rose, who is under arrest charged with embezzling $187,000 from the Produce Exchange bank, which closed its doors last Friday, is still locked up in the county jail awaiting developments in the examination of the bank's affairs by the officials of the Cleveland Trust company, which has been appointed receiver for the failed bank.

One of the principal objects in examining the books will be to learn if Rose cannot be charged with a more serious offense than embezzlement, the maximum penalty for which in Ohio is but 10 years' imprisonment. It is hoped to be able to find evidence of forgery, which permits a penalty of double that for embezzlement. The severe punishment is desired for its moral effect on other cases. The officials of the Produce Exchange bank are questioning those closely as to his method of speculation and with whom, and hope through this information to be able to learn whether there is possibility of a complete restitution to depositors of their money.

Rheumatism Neuralgia

It has come to be an established and well known fact that Rheumatism cannot be cured by external applications alone. It is however cured by the application of the external application of a soothing and penetrating liniment in the form of a salve.

Hamlin's Wizard Oil
taken internally cures by driving out of the blood the poison (acidic acid) which causes the disease. Applied externally it relieves the pain immediately and greatly hastens and facilitates the cure by removing the irritation and aggravating effects consequent to this pain.

Wizard Oil cures Neuralgia in an incredibly short time. Many cases of this disease of years standing have given way to the soothing and penetrating effects of Wizard Oil and been permanently cured.

Mrs. K. Betty of Whitey, Tex., writes: I have had Rheumatism for ten years and was nearly helpless. I tried several remedies and found no relief. I tried Hamlin's Wizard Oil and one bottle cured me.

I. Colway, of Omaha, Neb., writes Jan. 1, 1900: My mother was troubled with Facial Neuralgia for 13 years. She used six bottles of Hamlin's Wizard Oil and it cured her. We are never without a bottle of it in the house.

There is only one Wizard Oil—Hamlin's—name blown in the bottle. Signature "Hamlin Bros." on wrapper. Take no substitute. 50c. and $1.00.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.
If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.
I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

REALM OF SPORTS

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR THE ATHLETICS

They Have Re-Organized and Elected Officers for Season of 1904.

ASHBAUGH TO BE MANAGER

And Tommie Davis Captain—A Little Dope on the Merits of Each Player, All of Whom Were Identified With the Team Last Year.

The meeting of the East Liverpool Athletics on last Sunday afternoon at the city hall was a profitable one to every member of that amateur base ball team. Not since last fall had the team been called together and the players were not sure whether the same enthusiasm as characterized the aggregation all through the summer was among them or not. It did not take long when the popular subject was broached for them to realize that interest will be keener during the season of '04 than ever before.

It developed that every member of the team is anxious to identify himself with the same bunch again this year, and that the players are in better shape to put up the real game than since their organization. It is thought that the team will be comprised wholly of the same players as were on the pay roll last year. Only one change is possible and that will be no fault of the management. Tyson, the first baseman, who has few equals in this part of the country, considering his age and experience, is contemplating moving to East Palestine to accept a job in the pottery of that town, but even then he wants to be kept on the team, declaring that he will come over every time there is a game to be played. It is likely that arrangements will be made to hold him under those circumstances.

By rising votes officers were elected to serve during the season for the team. Will Ashbaugh, who efficiently handled the team last year, and who made a reputation by seeing the bunch through without a big debt hanging to them, was re-elected manager. He was also made secretary and treasurer. Will is one of the most enthusiastic fans of the city and when he goes into a base ball project it will succeed if energy and downright push will accomplish any thing.

Tommie Davis, who, when at his best has no local peers at third base, and who has had many years' experience in base ball, was unanimously elected captain. In his hands the team cannot help flourishing. He is conscientious and a hard worker. He is able to coach to perfection and the team will be under the best captain to be procured here when Tommie takes the reins.

The other players are Lufe Emmerling, catcher; Allison and George Emmerling, pitchers; McAvoy, short stop; Tyson, first base; John Heckathorn, second base; Jack Trainor, left field; E. Carey, middle field; Ed Bennett, right field. The worth of Lufe Emmerling behind the bat is well known by every fan in the city. He has been in the business for a long time and he has the first man yet to see who can put them over so hot that he cannot handle them. He rarely drops a ball, has a good arm and is a reliable batter.

Allison is one of the most promising young pitchers now living in the Crockery City. He has a pretty delivery, a cool head and excellent control. He was a good man in the box last year and this year will eclipse any feat ever made in the past.

George Emmerling is made up of base ball blood. It predominates in the family. All of the Emmerling boys are base ball players and George is certainly no exception to the rule. He has all the speed of a cannon, plenty of nerve to back it and will make a mark if he only continues in the sport.

John Heckathorn has proven his ability as a baseman during many seasons. He is quick on foot, understands the game perfectly and the captain would rather have him come to bat in a squeeze than any man on the team. He does not hit the ball every time, but when he does the frogs near the flower garden always hie to a place of safety.

Jack Trainor has been in left field for some time for in these many years. He has off days, the same as every other base ball player, but his good ones overbalance them and in his position he is as strong as can be found in this neck of woods.

E. Carey is not only a superb middle fielder, but he has developed propensities for a star in the twirling world.

It is contended by those who have watched him of late years that he will make a mark in the box and though he will likely be started in the field, he will undoubtedly be given the opportunity of further developing his wing.

Ed Bennett can run as far as any local man ever dared and scoop in a fly. He covers the position to the satisfaction of all and when he steps to the bat there is bound to be something doing.

It will not be necessary for the Athletics to purchase new suits this season. They are well equipped with uniforms and will enter the game on a sound, substantial basis. They made quite a record last season, defeating some of the best teams around here and winning 24 out of 41 games played. They will be much better this year and will fish for larger game.

BASKET BALL AT ROCK SPRINGS

An Interesting Game Scheduled Between Locals And Manchester.

The admirers of basket ball will be given a treat this evening at Rock Springs park when the local five goes against the crack team of Manchester. Both teams have been practicing hard for the contest, considerable rivalry existing between them, and they will play for blood.

The lineups for both teams follow:
East Liverpool—Allison and Bloor, forwards; Powell, center; Rigby and Chadwick, guards.
Manchester—Graham and Koch, forwards; Metzkes, center; Hay and Barry, guards.

The Battle of the Midgets.
The East Liverpool Midgets and the Y. M. C. A. Midgets will play at Rock Springs park tonight as a preliminary to the big game with Manchester. Each Midget is under 13, but all understand the game. The lineups will be as follows:

East Liverpool Midgets—Reark, rf.; Gallimore, lf.; Rigby, c.; Powell, Thomas, rg.; Wells, Judge, lg.
Y. M. C. A. Midgets—Robinson, rf.; Smith, lf.; Gardner, c.; McKenty, rg.; Eberling, Taylor, lg.

The next game to be played by the locals will be at the park on Friday evening against the Olympia Athletic club team, of McKeesport, Pa.

A Sweeping Challenge.
Since Jack McClelland, of Pittsburg, defeated Jimmy Hanlon, the Fighting Marine, before the N. A. C. a short time ago at Beaver Falls, Lawrence Lutz has been trying to get a match with the Pittsburger at 130 pounds, but for some reason McClelland refuses to make the match. Lutz now says he would like to meet Sofy Stroup, Paddy Murphy or any 133 pound man in the country.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.
The American league may try the two-coachers plan.

There are 58 clubs in the Western Golfing association.

The Phillies are making tempting offers to Jake Beckley.

Barney Oldfield and Tom Cooper are going into partnership.

Boston threatens to drop Dick Cooley unless he consents to a cut.

Angus, of the Detroit club, has sold out his interest to W. H. Yawkey.

Suter Sullivan, Cleveland's old third baseman, will be Denver's manager.

Robert Maxwell, England's amateur golf champion, is coming over this season.

This year's intercollegiate games will be contested on Franklin field, Philadelphia.

Ohio Wesleyan will have no foot ball team this year unless athletic association's debt of $1,300 is lifted.

Street Car Funerals.
There is a possibility that the feeling aroused by the drivers' strike in Chicago will lead to a sensible reform in funerals, by having them conducted on street cars. The Mexicans do this, says the National Tribune, and are far ahead of us in this respect. They have regular funeral corteges for all their lines, with hearse and special cars for the mourners. This is an immense saving for the masses of people, who can least afford the extravagant outlay imposed upon poor people for carriages with which to accompany their dead to their last resting place.

Miss M. Cartledge gives some helpful advice to young girls. Her letter is but one of thousands which prove that nothing is so helpful to young girls who are just arriving at the period of womanhood as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly, for it is the only medicine I ever tried which cured me. I suffered much from my first menstrual period, I felt so weak and dizzy at times I could not pursue my studies with the usual interest. My thoughts became sluggish, I had headaches, backaches, and sinking spells, also pains in the back and lower limbs. In fact, I was sick all over. "Finally, after many other remedies had been tried, we were advised to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am pleased to say that after taking it only two weeks, a wonderful change for the better took place, and in a short time I was in perfect health. I felt buoyant, full of life, and found all work a pastime. I am indeed glad to tell my experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it made a different girl of me. Yours very truly, MISS M. CARLEDGE, 533 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga."—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Mrs. William Dunn, of 192 Sixth street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did for me what none of the doctors could do. They told me I had gravel and a little relief was all I could expect. I suffered terribly for two or three years alternately better and worse with severe pains across the small of my back and up my side. The pains were so severe that I was often compelled to stay in bed, not being able to get up. My limbs swelled so I could hardly walk, and periodically I was taken with such severe pains through the groins that I could hardly stand it. The doctors advised hot applications and gave me bottle after bottle of medicine, but I did not receive any real benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy. Having seen them so highly recommended by others, I took them, and am grateful to say they helped me almost at once."

CONSIDER WAGESCALE.

Miners' Convention Denounces Practice of Making False Reports.
Indianapolis, Jan. 26.—The national convention of the United Mine Workers of America is considering the report of the scale committee in executive session. During the consideration of proposed minor amendments to the constitution the charge was made on the floor that some locals had been instructing their secretaries to make false reports to the national organization concerning the number of members in good standing. President Mitchell pleaded for the honesty of these officers, denying to any local authority the right to instruct officers to make a false report. The convention decided that any officer who made a false report should be deposed and should not be permitted to hold office again.

The convention voted down the stamp system for the collection of per capita tax and dues. The initiation fee is fixed at $10 for practical miners. For others the fee is left to the discretion of the districts. If any member wishes to attend school, leave of absence will hereafter be granted. New members will have to work three months in one district before transfer by card to another district will be permitted.

A resolution introduced by colored delegates petitioning the national executive board to use their influence against any legislation tending to disfranchise the negro resulted in a heated discussion. A substitute providing that the organization go on record against disfranchisement because of race or color was adopted.

BRIDGE CASE DECIDED.

Secretary Root Says Structures at Pittsburg Need Not Be Raised.
Washington, Jan. 26.—Secretary Root, after many months' consideration of the subject, has decided a question involving several million dollars growing out of the application to oblige the elevation of the six bridges over the Allegheny river connecting Pittsburg and Allegheny City. The secretary denied these applications. In his decision the secretary points out that to grant the applications would involve the practical rebuilding of some of the bridges, an extensive change of street grades, and serious injury to improved real estate near the river, and that the whole would cost several million dollars.

The bridges, he says, for only a few days in the year at the time of high water, offer obstruction to the vast and important traffic now carried on. The elevation of the bridges was requested in the interest of the large scheme of improvement of the Allegheny so as to afford slack water navigation to the great Mississippi and Ohio river steamers as far up the river as Olean, N. Y. The secretary says justice would require that, if the improvement of the river is to be made at public expense, the raising of the bridges should be treated as part of the improvement.

A Timely Suggestion.
This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

Rheumatism Neuralgia

It has come to be an established and well known fact that Rheumatism cannot be cured by external applications alone. It is however cured by all authorities that the external application of a soothing and penetrating liniment is of the greatest assistance in bringing about a cure. Rheumatism is a blood disease and must be cured through the blood.

Hamlin's Wizard Oil

taken internally cures by driving out of the blood, the poison (lactic acid) which causes the disease. Applied externally, it relieves the pain immediately and greatly hastens and facilitates the cure by removing the irritation and suggesting effects consequent to this pain.

Ward Oil cures Neuralgia in an incredibly short time. Many cases of this distressing years standing have given way to the soothing and penetrating effects of Ward Oil and been permanently cured.

Mrs. K. B. B. of Whitey, Tex., writes: "I have had Rheumatism for ten years and was nearly helpless. I tried several remedies and found no relief. I tried Hamlin's Wizard Oil and one bottle cured me."

I. Coloway, of Omaha, Neb., writes Jan. 2, 1900: "My mother was troubled with Facial Neuralgia for 15 years. She used six bottles of Hamlin's Wizard Oil and it cured her. We are never without a bottle of it in the house."

There is only one Wizard Oil—Hamlin's—name blown in the bottle. Signature "Hamlin's" on wrapper. Take no substitute. 50c. and $1.00.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that the rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

REALM OF SPORTS

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR THE ATHLETICS

They Have Re-Organized and Elected Officers for Season of 1904.

ASHBAUGH TO BE MANAGER

And Tommie Davis Captain—A Little Dope on the Merits of Each Player, All of Whom Were Identified With the Team Last Year.

The meeting of the East Liverpool Athletics on last Sunday afternoon at the city hall was a profitable one to every member of that amateur baseball team. Not since last fall had the team been called together and the players were not sure whether the same enthusiasm as characterized the aggregation all through the summer was among them or not. It did not take long when the popular subject was broached for them to realize that interest will be keener during the season of '04 than ever before.

It developed that every member of the team is anxious to identify himself with the same bunch again this year, and that the players are in better shape to put up the real game than since their organization. It is thought that the team will be comprised wholly of the same players as were on the pay roll last year. Only one change is possible and that will be no fault of the management. Tyson, the first baseman, who has few equals in this part of the country, considering his age and experience, is contemplating moving to East Palestine to accept a job in the pottery of that town, but even then he wants to be kept on the team, declaring that he will come over every time there is a game to be played. It is likely that arrangements will be made to hold him under those circumstances.

By rising votes officers were elected to serve during the season for the team. Will Ashbaugh, who efficiently handled the team last year, and who made a reputation by seeing the bunch through without a big debt hanging to them, was re-elected manager. He was also made secretary and treasurer. Will is one of the most enthusiastic fans of the city and when he goes into a baseball project it will succeed if energy and downright push will accomplish any thing.

Tommie Davis, who, when at his best has no local peers at third base, and who has had many years' experience in base ball, was unanimously elected captain. In his hands the team cannot help flourishing. He is conscientious and a hard worker. He is able to coach to perfection and the team will be under the best captain to be procured here when Tommie takes the reins.

The other players are Lefe Emmerring, catcher; Allison and George Emmerring, pitchers; McAvoy, short stop; Tyson, first base; John Heckathorn, second base; Jack Trainor, left field; E. Carey, middle field; Ed Bennett, right field. The worth of Lefe Emmerring behind the bat is well known by every fan in the city. He has been in the business for a long time and he has the first man yet to see who can put them over so hot that he cannot handle them. He rarely drops a ball, has a good arm and is a reliable batter.

Allison is one of the most promising young pitchers now living in the Crookery City. He has a pretty delivery, a cool head and excellent control. He was a good man in the box last year and this year will eclipse any feat ever made in the past.

George Emmerring is made up of base ball blood. It predominates in the family. All of the Emmerring boys are base ball players and George is certainly no exception to the rule. He has all the speed of a cannon, plenty of nerve to back it and will make a mark if he only continues in the sport.

John Heckathorn has proven his ability as a baseman during many seasons. He is quick on foot, understands the game perfectly and the captain would rather have him come to bat in a squeeze than any man on the team. He does not hit the ball every time, but when he does the frogs near the flower garden always live to a place of safety.

Jack Trainor has been in left field for some time for to these many years. He has off days, the same as every other base ball player, but his good ones overbalance them and in his position he is as strong as can be found in this neck of woods.

E. Carey is not only a superb middle fielder, but he has developed propensities for a star in the twirling world.

It is contended by those who have watched him of late years that he will make a mark in the box and though he will likely be started in the field, he will undoubtedly be given the opportunity to further developing his wing.

Ed Bennett can run as far as any local man ever dared and scoop in a fly. He covers the position to the satisfaction of all and when he steps to the bat there is bound to be something doing.

It will not be necessary for the Athletics to purchase new suits this season. They are well equipped with uniforms and will enter the game on a sound, substantial basis. They made quite a record last season, defeating some of the best teams around here and winning 24 out of 41 games played. They will be much better this year and will fish for larger game.

BASKET BALL AT ROCK SPRINGS

An Interesting Game Scheduled Between Locals and Manchester.

The admirers of basket ball will be given a treat this evening at Rock Springs park when the local five goes against the crack team of Manchester. Both teams have been practicing hard for the contest, considerable rivalry existing between them, and they will play for blood.

The lineups for both teams follow: East Liverpool—Allison and Bloor, forwards; Powell, center; Rigby and Chadwick, guards.

Manchester—Graham and Koch, forwards; Metzkes, center; Hay and Barry, guards.

The Battle of the Midgets.

The East Liverpool Midgets and the Y. M. C. A. Midgets will play at Rock Springs park tonight as a preliminary to the big game with Manchester. Each Midget is under 13, but all understand the game. The lineups will be as follows:

East Liverpool Midgets—Reark, rf.; Gallimore, lf.; Rigby, c.; Powell, Thomas, rg.; Wells, Judge, lg.

Y. M. C. A. Midgets—Robinson, rf.; Smith, lf.; Gardner, c.; McKenty, rg.; Eberling, Taylor, lg.

The next game to be played by the locals will be at the park on Friday evening against the Olympia Athletic club team, of McKeesport, Pa.

A Sweeping Challenge.

Since Jack McClelland, of Pittsburgh, defeated Jimmy Hanlon, the Fighting Marine, before the N. A. C. a short time ago at Beaver Falls, Lawrence Lutz has been trying to get a match with the Pittsburgher at 130 pounds, but for some reason McClelland refuses to make the match. Lutz now says he would like to meet Softy Stroup, Paddy Murphy or any 133 pound man in the country.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The American league may try the two-coachers plan.

There are 58 clubs in the Western Golfing association.

The Phillies are making tempting offers to Jake Beckley.

Barney Oldfield and Tom Cooper are going into partnership.

Boston threatens to drop Dick Coolcy unless he consents to a cut.

Angus, of the Detroit club, has sold out his interest to W. H. Yawkey.

Suter Sullivan, Cleveland's old third baseman, will be Denver's manager.

Robert Maxwell, England's amateur golf champion, is coming over this season.

This year's intercollegiate games will be contested on Franklin field, Philadelphia.

Ohio Wesleyan will have no foot ball team this year unless athletic association's debt of $1,300 is lifted.

Street Car Funerals.

There is a possibility that the feeling aroused by the drivers' strike in Chicago will lead to a sensible reform in funerals, by having them conducted on street cars. The Mexicans do this, says the National Tribune, and are far ahead of us in this respect. They have regular funeral corteges for all their times, with hearse and special cars for the mourners. This is an immense saving for the masses of people, who can least afford the extravagant outlay imposed upon poor people for carriages with which to accompany their dead to their last resting place.

Miss M. Cartledge gives some helpful advice to young girls. Her letter is but one of thousands which prove that nothing is so helpful to young girls who are just arriving at the period of womanhood as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly, for it is the only medicine I ever tried which cured me. I suffered much from my first menstrual period, I felt so weak and dizzy at times I could not pursue my studies with the usual interest. My thoughts became sluggish, I had headaches, backaches and sinking spells, also pains in the back and lower limbs. In fact, I was sick all over."

"Finally, after many other remedies had been tried, we were advised to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am pleased to say that after taking it only two weeks, a wonderful change for the better took place, and in a short time I was in perfect health. I felt buoyant, full of life, and found all work a pastime. I am indeed glad to tell my experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it made a different girl of me. Yours very truly, MISS M. CARTLIDGE, 533 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga. $5.00 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced."

about three hours. The churches were a little disturbed, but that was about the only inconvenience from the accident. The damage was repaired and the citizens were given the customary light on the streets and in the dwellings.

Baltimore Concern Falls.

Baltimore, Jan. 26.—E. M. Morrison & Co., bankers and brokers, have failed. The advance in cotton and failure of customers to make payments on margins is said to have been the cause.

ABSOLUTE FAITH

You Can Depend Upon the East Liverpool Citizen.

He has had the experience. He has thoroughly tested the article. He found it as represented.

He has absolute faith in its merits. Mrs. William Dunn, of 192 Sixth street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did for me what none of the doctors could do. They told me I had gravel and a little relief was all I could expect. I suffered terribly for two or three years alternately better and worse with severe pains across the small of my back and up my side. The pains were so severe that I was often compelled to stay in bed, not being able to get up. My limbs swelled so I could hardly walk, and periodically I was taken with such severe pains through the groins that I could hardly stand it. The doctors advised hot applications and gave me bottle after bottle of medicine, but I did not receive any real benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy. Having seen them so highly recommended by others, I took them, and am grateful to say they helped me almost at once."

Sold for 50 cents a box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

CONSIDER WAGESCALE.

Miners' Convention Denounces Practice of Making False Reports.

Indianapolis, Jan. 26.—The national convention of the United Mine Workers of America is considering the report of the scale committee in executive session. During the consideration of proposed minor amendments to the constitution the charge was made on the floor that some locals had been instructing their secretaries to make false reports to the national organization concerning the number of members in good standing. President Mitchell pleaded for the honesty of these officers, denying to any local authority the right to instruct officers to make a false report. The convention decided that any officer who made a false report should be deposed and should not be permitted to hold office again.

The convention voted down the stamp system for the collection of per capita tax and dues. The initiation fee is fixed at $10 for practical miners. For others the fee is left to the discretion of the districts. If any member wishes to attend school, leave of absence will hereafter be granted. New members will have to work three months in one district before transferring by card to another district will be permitted.

A resolution introduced by colored delegates petitioning the national executive board to use their influence against any legislation tending to disfranchise the negro resulted in a heated discussion. A substitute providing that the organization go on record against disfranchisement because of race or color was adopted.

BRIDGE CASE DECIDED.

Secretary Root Says Structures at Pittsburgh Need Not Be Raised.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Secretary Root, after many months' consideration of the subject, has decided a question involving several million dollars growing out of the application to oblige the elevation of the six bridges over the Allegheny river connecting Pittsburgh and Allegheny City. The secretary denied these applications. In his decision the secretary points out that to grant the applications would involve the practical rebuilding of some of the bridges, an extensive change of street grades and serious injury to improved real estate near the river, and that the whole would cost several million dollars.

The bridges, he says, for only a few days in the year at the time of high water, offer obstruction to the vast and important traffic now carried on. The elevation of the bridges was requested in the interest of the large shanty so as to afford slack water navigation to the great Mississippi and Ohio river steamers as far up the river as Olean, N. Y. The secretary says justice would require that, if the improvement of the river is to be made at public expense, the raising of the bridges should be treated as part of the improvement.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

You will never tire of Mrs. Austin's Pancakes, a fresh supply now on hand at your grocer's.

Women Find Happiness and Health by Using Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Thousands of Women Praise the Virtues of Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Are these horrible aches and pains natural? Am I doomed to lose my health and good looks through suffering that cannot be prevented? Shall I be nervous and cross at twenty-five, thin and sickly at thirty, and full of wrinkles in my thirties?

Are you asking these questions of your young woman?

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood purifier will preserve your beauty and keep back the years of time. It will help you at once.

Mrs. M. A. Y. Clark, formerly of Buffalo, N. Y., who now resides at Crowl's Point, Pa., says: "For two years I was miserable, and no one could give me any relief. I felt so sad and downhearted all the time, and sometimes felt as if I would be glad if I could die, for it was misery to live and feel as I did. I thought sometimes I should lose my mind. I had the headache and could not sleep at times. I tried many medicines but they did me no good. At last I decided to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and after taking two bottles could sleep well, and my mind did not trouble me any more. I am now able to do all my own household work, which I have not done for two years before. I am very thankful for what Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done for me, and I gladly recommend it to all who suffer as I have suffered."

180 BURIED ALIVE BY EXPLOSION IN CHESWICK MINE

Awful Fate Overtakes Army of Breadwinners While Toiling Underground.

MANY FUTILE ATTEMPTS MADE TO RESCUE VICTIMS

Only One of the Scores Who Went to Work Brought to the Surface.

PITTSBURG ENGINEER IN THE LIST OF DEAD.

Selwyn M. Taylor, Who Plotted the Mine, Led Rescuing Party and Was Overcome by Afterdamp—Comrades Tried to Carry Him Back.

CHESWICK, Jan. 26.—The body of Selwyn M. Taylor was brought to the surface at 2:25 a. m. He had evidently been dead several hours.

Cheswick, Pa., Jan. 26.—By an explosion in the Harwick mine of the Allegheny Coal company, 16 miles from Pittsburgh, Western Pennsylvania promises to add one of the greatest tragedies of years to the already long list of mine fatalities. Even the officials of the Allegheny Coal company, the owners of the mine, do not know at this time the number of men still entombed in the chambers of the mine 220 feet below the surface, but a conservative estimate places the number at 184.

Even General Manager George Schuetz of the coal company, who is in charge of the mine, gives little hope that many of the men will be brought to the surface. The first ray of hope that any of the men had escaped the tremendous concussion of the explosion came at six o'clock last night when Adolph Gunia was brought to the surface still living.

From all that can be gathered at this hour between 180 and 190 men are lying dead in the headings and passageways of the Harwick mine of the Allegheny Coal company. Cages after cages have gone down into the mine and come up again but the only miner of all those that went down to work has been brought to the surface. The rescued miner is Adolph Gunia, and he is still in a semi-conscious condition at the temporary hospital at the rude schoolhouse on the hillside above the mine.

In addition to the miners who were at work when the explosion occurred, it is now believed by practically all of the men of the rescue party who have come up the 220 foot vertical shaft for a warning and a breathing spell, that Selwyn M. Taylor, the Pittsburgh mining engineer who plotted the mine and who was the first to reach the bottom after the explosion, is now among the list of dead.

The explosion occurred at 8:20 in the forenoon and the first warning was the sudden rumble underground, then a sheet of flame followed up the deep shaft. Both mine cages were hurled through the tangle, 20 feet above the landing stage and the three men on the tangle were thrown to the ground. A mule was hurled high above the shaft and fell dead on the ground. The injured men were taken at once to Pittsburgh.

The rumble of the explosion and the crash at the pit mouth startled the little village and the wives and children of the men below rushed to the scene of the disaster. There was no way to get into the deep workings. The cages that let the men into the mines and brought them out again when the days work was done were both demolished.

All day long there was a jam of about the mouth of the pit and there were calls for assistance and for surgical aid from the men in charge of the mine, but it was not until 4 o'clock in the afternoon that the first attempt at rescue was made. This was a failure, as the two men who volunteered were driven back by the foul air.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Selwyn M. Taylor and one of his assistants signaled for the engineer to lower them into the shaft. Taylor is still down there. Three times efforts have been made to reach him, but so far without avail. Thomas Wood, one of the first of the rescue party hauled to the surface, told his story of his trip through the mine. He said:

"I was with Taylor and we clambered over three or four falls. Taylor laid out the mine and seemed to know the way. There was one man alive at the foot of the shaft. He was sent up and then we took the mule path into the south level. We saw two men who were alive and notified those back of us and then went on. We passed the third, fourth and fifth headings and then through an overdrift into the air shaft. I began to feel dizzy and sick and then I saw Taylor stagger and fall. His lantern fell. We tried to lift him up, but could not carry him, and I made my own way to safety."

F. W. Cunningham, the mine inspector of the Fourteenth district, reached Harwick at 7:30 p. m. He said: "I went to Greensburg to inspect a mine and when I reached home I found a bunch of telegrams telling me of this disaster. The mine was inspected, I think, about the 1st of December. There was some gas in it then, but I never considered the mine dangerous."

The last inspection blank hanging on the nail in the mine company's office is dated July 17, 1903, but it is evident that a later report has been torn off. Among the rescue party now in the mine, in addition to Inspector Cunningham, are Jack McCann, Bob North, Robert Carney, Henry Becker, Robert Gibson and William Walknerst. An additional party of 20 has just gone down.

Three of the rescuers, Becker, Smith and Walknerst, when they returned to the surface declared that all in the mine outside of the rescue party are dead, including Taylor, the engineer.

Manager Schuetz has telegraphed to Chief Mine Inspector Roderick at Harrisburg as follows: "Two outside men dead of injuries. But one brought out of shaft who is still living. Rescuing party in mine, including Mine Inspector Cunningham, who will advise later."

H. F. Hutchinson, who gave out the lamps to the miners before they went to work in the pit, said: "At 7:15 o'clock, the time when every one is supposed to be at work at the mine, I had given out between 180 and 190 lamps. That was one lamp to a man."

"Did any of these lamps come back?" "Not one."

There is a light in every cottage in the little hamlet above the pit mouth. There is still a crowd about the mouth of the shaft, but it will probably be hours before the full extent of the catastrophe is known.

The first attempt at rescue was made at 4 o'clock by Robert North and Jack McCann, one of the engineers employed by the company, who tried to get into the mine by way of the stairs through the air shaft. They managed to grope their way some distance, but were finally driven back by the foul air.

The main shaft into the mine, 220 feet deep, was made useless by the explosion, which hurled both cages, one of which was within 30 feet of the bottom of the shaft, through the tangle, 30 feet above the surface.

Shortly after 5 o'clock a temporary rigging had been put in place over the mouth of the main shaft and a small bucket capable of carrying three men fastened to the tackle. The first try with the new rig was made by Selwyn M. Taylor, the mining engineer, who had been summoned from Pittsburgh, and an assistant, J. M. Rayburn.

A crowd of anxious men and women were gathered at the pit mouth as the two men were lowered into the black shaft on the work of rescue. Slowly the rope on the big drums of the engine began to unroll and the two engineers disappeared.

Still there was no sound from the depths below except the occasional shout from the men in the bucket to stop while they tested the air. Then the cage reached the bottom. There was a silence of full 40 minutes and then came the summons to haul up slowly. When the cage reached the top Rayburn was there and with him was Adolph Gunia, still alive, but gasping for breath and evidently seriously injured.

Again the cage went down into the darkness, and this time it carried with it E. Taylor, an assistant of Selwyn Taylor, and also Robert North and J. McCann, who had made the first attempt.

There was also a call for volunteers to aid in the work of rescue and a call for hammers, nails and brattice cloth to enable the rescuers to brattice up the headings so that they can grope their way back to where the men were at work.

AN UNBIDDEN GUEST.

Young Farmer Dies in Bobsled With Sweetheart's Arm About Him.

Anoka, Minn., Jan. 26.—Death was an unbidden guest at a sleighing party which was given by a number of young merry-makers here.

Among them was Lewis Ficker, a young farmer, and by his side, with her arm around him, sat the young lady he had brought. Amid the joking and singing she scarcely noticed that her companion was unusually silent. She thought he was hanging his head on his breast to avoid the cold. Even when she remarked, "How cold your hands are," and received no reply, she thought little of the fact that he did not answer.

At last Ficker's silence attracted attention. An investigation followed and a young doctor in the party declared that Ficker had been dead over an hour.

KILLED BY TREACHERY.

Moros Shot Lieutenant Blake During Progress of a Parley.

Manila, Jan. 26.—It has just been learned that Lieutenant Campbell W. Blake of the Twenty-second infantry was killed while trying to enter Morocotta in Mindanao to examine the locality. He was accompanied by Private Foy of the same regiment.

Lieutenant Blake was shot treacherously, the Moros firing on the party while Major Bullard was parleying with them. Morocotta was at once taken by assault with no further loss to the expeditionary forces. The estimated loss among the Moros is 20 killed.

SENATE TALKS, HOUSE WORKS.

Army Appropriation Bill Carries $75,000,000 This Session.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The senate heard further discussion of the question of appointments to office made during congressional recesses, listened to a speech on the isthmian canal question by Mr. Morgan and passed a number of bills of a semi-public character. As a result of the debate on the appointment question a resolution asking for specific information concerning the nomination of W. D. Crum as collector of customs at the port of Charleston, S. C., was passed. Among the bills passed was one authorizing the erection of a monument to the memory of John Paul Jones.

The house passed the army appropriation bill, carrying approximately $75,000,000, after adopting a number of amendments.

A resolution calling on the secretary of state for information as to the number of carriages maintained by the government for the state department was adopted.

gun at the Baptist Church
Last Evening.

A series of revival meetings will be conducted at the First Baptist church in this city, the first service having been held last evening. The meetings for the first week will be in the nature of preliminary or preparatory services.

After that the campaign against sin will begin in earnest. About February 1 the pastor, Rev. H. H. Bawden, will be assisted in his work by Rev. E. A. Reed, of Martin's Ferry, and Rev. Mr. Fletcher, of Washington, Pa. Both men are powerful speakers and have accomplished great good in the evangelistic field. It is expected the series of meetings will result in a wonderful religious awakening.

Ordered Before the Mayor.

Four men have been ordered to appear before Mayor Weaver at 7 o'clock this evening to tell what they know about a charge preferred against them by Mrs. Milliron, of Second street, for the mistreatment of her 10-year-old son. The men summoned to appear are Tobe Burke, Winnie Wurtzel, Frank Kilmer and Brady Allen.

Woodmen of the World.

All members are requested to be present at the meeting Wednesday evening, as State Manager Wood and State Organizer Griffin will be present. 21-h
M. R. DOUGLASS, Clerk.

WOES OF THE WEDDED

ARE RELATED IN COURT

A Wife Alleges That She Was Beaten and Dragged About By the Hair.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—Two divorce cases were heard by Judge Hole yesterday afternoon, divorce being granted in one case, and the decision in the other reserved until Monday.

Divorce and alimony in the sum of $150 were allowed in the case of Cora Rice, of Alliance, against Joseph Rice, a wire mill drawer at the Salem nail mill. The parties were married at Salem in 1893 and have two children. Habitual drunkenness, gross neglect and failure to provide were alleged in the petition. The wife alleged the husband abandoned his family in 1901. She was compelled to send the children to an institution. Mrs. Rice has been employed in a laundry in that city for seven months. With divorce Mrs. Rice is given control of the children should she desire to have them.

In the case of Mary A. Coy against William C. Coy, both of Hanover township, the court reserved its decision. They were married in 1894 and lived together less than two years. The wife charges extreme cruelty, alleging that her husband dragged her about by the hair, struck her with his fist and failed to properly provide. They have an eight year old daughter, to whose support the husband has contributed $1 a month for three years. The case involves a separation by mutual agreement, a petition for divorce on the part of the husband, the filing and withdrawal of an answer and other features which are under consideration by the court. The defendant, though he was present in court, had not intended to appear against his wife, but Judge Hole called him to the witness stand.

PROBATE MATTERS

Wills Filed And Other Steps Taken
Toward Settling Up Various Estates.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—The will of the late Isaac J. Bye, of Hanover township, has been filed for probate. Hearing, Tuesday, February 2, at 1 p. m. He bequeathed all his property to his sister, Sidney Ann Hostetter, at her death to be divided equally among her children, except what is known as the Blackledge farm, which is to be divided equally among the children of Adaline M. Satterthwaite, Albert B. Hostetter and James M. Hanna are named as executors without bond. No appraisal.

The will of the late Eliza Forney, of Columbiana, has been filed, and hearing set for February 2. To her sister, Mrs. Sarah Crawford, of Columbiana, she leaves all her property. No appraisal.

A settlement with the Big Vein Coal company for the accidental death of Daniel Herbert at Salineville has been confirmed and the administratrix, Mary Herbert, has been authorized to distribute the proceeds, $282.30.

A commission issued to take the testimony of subscribing witnesses to the will of the late Emma Seibert, of Salem, having been returned duly executed, the will has been admitted to probate.

E. P. Speidel, assignee of W. C. Anthony, of Hanover, has filed his final account.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Hollenden Club Ball.

The members of the Hollenden club have already begun preparations for their dance to be given at Rock Springs pavilion on March 17. It has been given out that neither time nor expense will be spared in making this one of the leading social functions of the season. The club's well known reputation as entertainers has extended far beyond the immediate vicinity of East Liverpool, and its functions are always attended by a large number from out of town. On this occasion the members mean to outdo every previous effort made by them or any other social club of the city, and this will doubtless prove true.

Birthday Surprise.

Mrs. John Agner was the recipient of a very happy surprise last evening at her home on West Fourth street. The event was a celebration of Mrs. Agner's fifty-fifth birthday anniversary and her relatives decided to make the occasion a happy memory for Mrs. Agner. The party consisted entirely of Mrs. Agner's relatives, who spent the evening in a jolly manner, with the playing of games and the enjoyment of music. There were 25 present. During the evening refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughters, Miss Minnie Agner, Mrs. Will Coles, Mrs. Henry Schreiber and Mrs. Frank Buxton.

Rare Musical Event.

The musical and organ recital which will be given this evening at St. Stephen's church on Fourth street, under the auspices of St. Stephen's vest choir, will be a rare treat, and one not often given to citizens of East Liverpool. Miss Ruth Hay and Mrs. M. R. Faville, the soloists, who will assist Prof. Edward J. Napier, the organist, are two of Pittsburg's finest and most noted singers. A very large attendance is expected, as the sale of tickets has been large and the seating capacity of St. Stephen's church is between 500 and 600.

Willing Workers.

The Willing Workers of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church will meet next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Tatgenhorst. The Mission League of the church will not meet until Wednesday, February 3, when it will meet in the church and on the program will discuss the biographies of some great men.

Missionary Meeting.

The Missionary society of St. Stephen's church held an interesting missionary meeting on Sunday afternoon. An address was made by Rev. Edwin Weary and quite a number of new members joined the society.

Society Meetings.

The Girls' Friendly society and the Ladies' Guild, both important auxiliary societies of St. Stephen's church, held business meetings last evening.

Three Released From Jail.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—Levi Cobbs, colored, and Elsie Boyd, a white woman, of Wellsville, who were sent to jail from Mayor Fogo's court for immoral conduct, were released yesterday, the grand jury failing to indict them. Mrs. Bertha Wynn, of East Liverpool, who was sent to jail from Mayor Weaver's court for immoral conduct, completed a 30 days' jail sentence today, and upon the payment of a fine of $25 fine was released.

Mission Meetings at Wellsville.

A series of mission services will be given on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week by Rev. Edwin Weary, in the Church of the Ascension, at Wellsville. On Thursday evening the vested choir of St. Stephen's church will attend in a body and sing at the service. Solos will be rendered by Miss Alice Devon and Charles Heath.

Sues For Commission.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—L. M. Kyse, an East Palestine attorney, has filed suit against D. E. Kimmel, asking judgment for $166 with interest from December 20, 1903, as commission for the sale of some real estate. He sold Kimmel's residence property in East Palestine, and plaintiff alleges he was to receive five per cent for making the sale.

Walked to Toronto.

Charles Watkin, who has been in this city for several weeks looking after his business interests, left yesterday afternoon for his home at Steubenville. Mr. Watkin is employed at the Mingo mills and yesterday was informed that operations would be resumed this morning. Traffic on the C. & P. had not yet been opened up, and he was compelled to walk to Toronto.

Levy-Steinfeld.

Charles Steinfeld left yesterday for Newark, N. J., to attend the wedding this evening of his brother Maurice, a prominent business man of Wheeling, to Miss Martha Levy. The wedding is to be a most fashionable affair and will be attended by a large number of guests. Louis Steinfeld, another brother of this city, could not be present.

ADDITIONAL PERSONALS.

C. H. Burton is ill at his home on Trentvale street, suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia.

Dr. George P. Ikert, who has been seriously ill for some weeks, while not yet able to be upon the streets, is so rapidly convalescing that he is able to meet his friends at his residence.

Robert L. Atkinson, who has been spending several weeks with his parents at Clarksburg, W. Va., returned to this city this morning, and will resume his duties at the Laughlin pottery next Monday.

DIED ON THE TRAIN.

Two Victims of Mine Disaster Expire on Way to Hospital.

Pittsburg, Jan. 26.—John Waldman and Henry Mayhugh, victims of the Harwick mine disaster, lie dead in the Allegheny county morgue. They died on their way to the West Penn hospital. They were working on the tippie at the mouth of the mine when the explosion occurred.

John Waldman was a tippie man, 25 years old, and married and lived in Indiana township. Henry Mayhugh was a checkweighman, 52 years old, a widower, and lived in Springdale township. The former was asphyxiated by gas after being stunned by the fall of timbers about the top of the shaft. His body was identified by his cousin, Winnie Stoup, of 1412 Boyd street, Allegheny.

Mayhugh died on the train on the West Penn railroad before it reached Allegheny. Waldman was not thought to be dead when the train arrived, and he was removed to the West Penn hospital, where it was found he was dead, and later his body was taken to the morgue.

The coroner did not send any deputies to the scene, but kept in communication with an official of the mining company there by telephone.

FATHER AND SON SLAIN

BY MAN WITH AN AX.

Alfred, Ont., Jan. 26.—C. Goyette of Montreal in a quarrel over wages with Daniel Corrigan and his son, farmers living near here, killed them both with an ax. He then forced Mrs. Corrigan to give him all the money she had and fled, but later was captured.

A Strict Grammarian.

"You think a great deal of your husband, don't you?" said the visiting relative.

"You have the wrong preposition," answered Mr. Meektop's wife, with the cold tones of the superior woman. "I think for him."—Washington Star.

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature
And of Matters About Town.

Sunny Jim.—A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. George Poe. Mr. Poe is employed as a conductor on the East Liverpool railway and his fellow workmen have already named the new arrival "Sunny Jim," after his father.

Special Services.—At the Free Methodist church on Avondale street there will be preaching every evening this week. Rev. Albert F. Faust will have charge assisted by Rev. Glen Gillen, of Ohioville, and Rev. Charles Morgan, of Pittsburg.

Healthy Twins.—Twin boys arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kountzler, of the West End, last night. The youngsters when weighed tipped the beam at exactly nine pounds and two ounces each. Mr. Kountzler is an employee of the Harker pottery.

Fire in a Hotel.—A broken gas pipe caused a blaze in a room at the Hotel Lakel last night about 11 o'clock. The occupant of the room was sleeping while the gas was blazing and had set fire to the woodwork about the window. The fire was put out with little damage.

The members of the Hollenden club have already begun preparations for their dance to be given at Rock Springs pavilion on March 17. It has been given out that neither time nor expense will be spared in making this one of the leading social functions of the season. The club's well known reputation as entertainers has extended far beyond the immediate vicinity of East Liverpool, and its functions are always attended by a large number from out of town. On this occasion the members mean to outdo every previous effort made by them or any other social club of the city, and this will doubtless prove true.

Birthday Surprise.

Mrs. John Agner was the recipient of a very happy surprise last evening at her home on West Fourth street. The event was a celebration of Mrs. Agner's fifty-fifth birthday anniversary and her relatives decided to make the occasion a happy memory for Mrs. Agner. The party consisted entirely of Mrs. Agner's relatives, who spent the evening in a jolly manner, with the playing of games and the enjoyment of music. There were 25 present. During the evening refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughters, Miss Minnie Agner, Mrs. Will Coles, Mrs. Henry Schreiber and Mrs. Frank Buxton.

Rare Musical Event.

The musical and organ recital which will be given this evening at St. Stephen's church on Fourth street, under the auspices of St. Stephen's vest choir, will be a rare treat, and one not often given to citizens of East Liverpool. Miss Ruth Hay and Mrs. M. R. Paville, the soloists, who will assist Prof. Edward J. Napier, the organist, are two of Pittsburg's finest.

and most noted singers. A very large attendance is expected, as the sale of tickets has been large and the seating capacity of St. Stephen's church is between 500 and 600.

Willing Workers.

The Willing Workers of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church will meet next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Tatgenhorst. The Mission League of the church will not meet until Wednesday, February 3, when it will meet in the church and on the program will discuss the biographies of some great men.

Missionary Meeting.

The Missionary society of St. Stephen's church held an interesting missionary meeting on Sunday afternoon. An address was made by Rev. Edwin Weary and quite a number of new members joined the society.

Society Meetings.

The Girls' Friendly society and the Ladies' Guild, both important auxiliary societies of St. Stephen's church, held business meetings last evening.

Three Released From Jail.

Lisbon, January 26.—(Special.)—Levi Cobbs, colored, and Elsie Boyd, a white woman, of Wellsville, who were sent to jail from Mayor Fogo's court for immoral conduct, were released yesterday, the grand jury failing to indict them. Mrs. Bertha Wynn, of East Liverpool, who was sent to jail from Mayor Weaver's court for immoral conduct, completed a 30 days' jail sentence today, and upon the payment of a fine of $25 fine was released.

Mission Meetings at Wellsville.

A series of mission services will be given on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week by Rev. Edwin Weary, in the Church of the Ascension, at Wellsville. On Thursday evening the vested choir of St. Stephen's church will attend in a body and sing at the service. Solos will be rendered by Miss Alice Devon and Charles Heath.

Sues For Commission.

Lisbon January 26.—(Special.)—L. M. Kyse, an East Palestine attorney, has filed suit against D. E. Kimmell, asking judgment for $166 with interest from December 20, 1903, as commission for the sale of some real estate. He sold Kimmell's residence property in East Palestine, and plaintiff alleges he was to receive five per cent for making the sale.

Walked to Toronto.

Charles Watkin, who has been in this city for several weeks looking after his business interests, left yesterday afternoon for his home at Steubenville. Mr. Watkin is employed at the Mingo mills and yesterday was informed that operations would be resumed this morning. Traffic on the C. & P. had not yet been opened up, and he was compelled to walk to Toronto.

Levy-Steinfeld.

Charles Steinfeld left yesterday for Newark, N. J., to attend the wedding this evening of his brother Maurice, a prominent business man of Wheeling, to Miss Martha Levy. The wedding is to be a most fashionable affair and will be attended by a large number of guests. Louis Steinfeld, another brother of this city, could not be present.

ADDITIONAL PERSONALS.

C. H. Burton is ill at his home on Trentvale street, suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia.

Dr. George P. Ikirt, who has been seriously ill for some weeks, while not yet able to be upon the streets, is so rapidly convalescing that he is able to meet his friends at his residence.

Robert L. Atkinson, who has been spending several weeks with his parents at Clarksburg, W. Va., returned to this city this morning, and will resume his duties at the Laughlin pottery next Monday.
